'Tax grab' for college alleged

A "tax grab" involving taxable property within the Granite City School District apparently is developing on behalf of the Lewis and Clark Community College in the Alton area.

This is the belief of members of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce committee on community college services. The group met yesterday afternoon and will attend a public hearing on local college services at 2 p.m. May 9 in the Granite City High School South auditorium.

The hearing was ordered by the Illinois Community College Board after receiving petitions signed by Granite Cityans. All of the petitions contained material published in Alton.

Regardless of what occurs at the hearing, it is the legal stepping-stone toward calling a special election on detaching the Granite City school system from Belleville Area College. With the approval of the school district, BAC and the ICCB, Granite City is scheduled to become part of the Belleville district effective July 1. The election would take place earlier, probably in June.

Members of the committee say the special election would cause unnecessary costs to taxpayers. While they are confident most Granite Cityans desire BAC annexation, as expressed at a Quad-City area public hearing held in Venice this year, they suspect that a serious effort would be made to sway the election, possibly taking advantage of the prospect of a light voting turnout.

A negative result would detach Granite City from BAC, squeezing the cost of college tuition into GC School District Nine's budget but without an accompanying levy.

This would force designation of other school funds for college costs, necessitating elimination of some of the existing public school services here, it was asserted.

"We would be left in limbo, and would also see a separation of Granite City from the Madison-Venice area despite the clear desire of the three school districts to be members of the same community college district," Dr. George T. Wilkins Sr., committee chairman, said. Former Madison, Madison County and state school superintendent, Dr. Wilkins noted that Madison and Venice are now irrevocably committed as Belleville Area College territory.

Representatives of the three school systems were present yesterday along with mayors and industrial representatives. A Chamber of Commerce

City budget lists deficit

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer
A new Granite City budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year projecting expenditures of at least $1,338,282 and a year-end deficit of $682,526 was presented to City Council members Monday night along with a warning that the city is facing its biggest financial problem in recent history.

Alderman Gerald Parmley, chairman of the council's finance committee, said the proposed $1.1 billion expense figure was revised from a tentative budget proposal of $5,215,691 given council members by the finance committee in early March. Parmley said his committee, which includes Aldermen Emerald Dawes and Ronald Coleman, had trimmed the earlier budget figure "to rock bottom."

In addition, he explained, the total of budgeted expenditures and the projected deficit are likely to increase substantially before the appropriation bill is finally advanced to passage stage.

Several unknown factors make the new budget estimates uncertain at this time. These include the prospects of salary increases, which are not taken into account in the new budget projections; the possibility of higher insurance costs in a revision of the city's insurance program; and the possibility of higher contract costs for garbage and refuse pickups after the present sanitation contract expires this year.

In an explanation of the city's financial problem, the finance committee noted that tax collections which began May 1, 1974, are at $1,074,156 for all purposes. The amount, however, $705,444 is in separate tax levies accounts including the library fund, police pensions, fire pensions and general obligation bonds, leaving a tax levy of $1,268,712 for general use.

On this basis, an estimated 95 per cent tax collection would produce $1,205,276 in available tax funds for operating costs. Other revenue during the 1974-75 fiscal, which begins May 1, is projected at $878,500 in state sales tax, $350,500 in state income tax, $55,000 from operation of parking meters, $448,992 in licenses, permits and other fees, and $392,000 in flood disaster funds still due to the city from the federal government.

This would give the city total estimated receipts of $3,328,268 for the fiscal year. The city's operating costs, the committee's report set out, are $4,010,790.

The proposed budget deficit of $1,338,282, includes $1,127,488 in appropriations for the separate

Lock of pact being cited by Venice faculty

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
Mrs. Tina Ponce and Irene Hackett, representing American Federation of Teachers Local 965, attended a Venice Board of Education meeting Monday night to request a meeting with the board to continue negotiations on an agreement for the 1973-74 year.

Barry Freedman, a field representative for the Illinois Federation of Teachers, emphasized to the board that "teachers in Venice are pretty determined they are not going to finish the school year without a contract."

Formal contracts are not signed under current legal interpretations but there have been detailed work agreements. The two members of Local 965 sought a meeting with the board for Tuesday night.

Informing that two board members were unavailable to meet Tuesday, they agreed to a meeting that was tentatively scheduled for today, subject to union approval.

The teachers commented that they have been working without an agreement for nearly a year. Meetings have been held between the board's personnel committee and the union's bargaining group.

New Board President Jack Tolliver said a one-day notice of a meeting created problems but that a later meeting "surely would not make that much difference."

Prior to the public board meeting Monday, a closed session was conducted by the school board at which nearly all others present were excluded. During the caucus, board members heard a parent's objections to the alleged conduct of a Venice teacher relating to incidents of alleged student misbehavior.

The teacher in question, parent, student and school principal were present and several misunderstandings regarding the situation were clarified, it was learned.

About 25 students were being held out of school Monday in the Venice District as a protest against alleged mistreatment of children by teachers and administrators, Supt. Pier said.

There had been assertions by the Rev. O. S. Elridge of St. Louis, formerly of Venice, a member of the national Congress of Racial Equality, that the Venice board members had not met with dissenting parents and that children would be kept from school until an agreement to meet was reached. None of those involved in the protest attended the open board meeting Monday.

Lueders resigns city plan post

H. E. Lueders, a member of the Granite City Plan Commission since the commission was established in 1962, resigned his membership in a letter to the City Council Monday night.

The resignation was accepted by council members. Mayor Paul Schuler said an appointment to fill the vacancy on the 12-man planning and zoning board will be made within the next few weeks.

Ebersold hopes for progress

William "Mike" Ebersold, mayor-elect of Venice, will devote his term to office to fulfilling the "hopes and dreams" of the late Dr. John E. Lee for major improvements in Venice, Ebersold said following his election to the majority post this week.

"I will do my best to accomplish what Dr. Lee already had planned for the city of Venice," Ebersold said in announcing that "the first thing we will plan, within the next few weeks, will be the dedication of the newly built city hall, a project for which Dr. Lee had worked during his entire career as mayor."

Construction of a new recreation building and a new fire station, along with completion of the relocation of Broadway, are on his program, the mayor-elect said.

"We have a fine city with good people living here and an able city council. With all of us working together, Venice will continue to grow and prosper," he said.

Ebersold was elected without opposition in a special election Tuesday in which a light vote totaling 881 ballots was cast in the four polling places—one in each of the city's four wards.

He will be seated as mayor in the next regular meeting of the City Council April 30, and will assume his duties on May 1, the beginning of the city's new fiscal year.

The special election was held to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Dr. Lee who held the mayor's office 17 years. Dr. Lee died Nov. 30 after he was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage.

Ebersold polled a total of 814 votes in the four ward polling places, while 16 write-in votes were cast for him. A total of 151 ballots were spoiled. Tuesday's voting results were canvassed by the City Council during its regular meeting Tuesday night. Results by ward were:

Ward One, voting at the IOOF Hall, Second and Granville streets—Ebersold 188, two write-in votes for Virginia Hargis, two for Lloyd Patterson, two for Jack Tolliver and two for James Miller, no spoiled ballots.

Ward Two, voting at St. Mark's Church, Sixth Street and Lincoln Avenue, Ebersold 284 votes, two write-in votes for Fred Rumpf, one for Lawrence Hartman and one for Philip Smith, 25 spoiled ballots.

Ward Three, voting at 1015 Douglas St.—Ebersold 154, one write-in vote for James A. Gardner and 10 ballots spoiled.

Ward Four, voting at 107 Weaver St.—Ebersold 208, two write-in votes for Henry Baucum and one for William Baucum, 16 ballots spoiled.

Ebersold, a retired railroad switchman and a close associate of the late Dr. Lee, has been city clerk of Venice since 1964.

He and his wife, Irene, live at 804 Third St., Venice. They have two sons, a daughter and six grandchildren.

Okla plant sewer

A resolution under which occupants of 18 homesites outside the Granite City limits will be permitted to tap into a sanitary sewer line being built by Archer Daniels Midland Co. to serve its elevator and processing facilities on Cargill Road was approved by the Granite City Council Monday night.

The council's action by a 12 to 1 roll call vote will enable ADM to acquire easements for the construction of that part of its sewer line extending through six lots of Steelcrest Village Manor, nine lots of Steelcrest Village Manor Fourth Addition, and three lots of Steelcrest Village Manor Fourth Addition, all outside the city limits.

The new sewer line, which also will increase capacity of the city sewer system along the Nameoki ditch between St. Clair Avenue and Victory Drive, is being financed by ADM and will be turned over to the city when it is completed.

Under terms of the resolution, property owners of the 18 lots are to hereby extend the privilege of tapping and using the city sewer facilities if and when the same are extended through said subdivisions, upon said owners and occupants filing with the city clerk a request for a permit to so use said city sewer.

The tap-on permission is granted, the resolution stipulated, "upon the condition that the regular tap-on fee required of city residences shall be paid and regular sewer rental charges and sewage treatment charges required of residents of Granite City shall also be paid."

Leo Konzen, attorney for ADM, and Don Shimon, chief engineer for ADM here, told council members before a vote was taken on the resolution that it was necessary to acquire permission for use of the city sewer by the property owners before the company could acquire the needed easements.

Shimon said the sewer line, at its deepest level, would be ten feet underground. Alderman Walter Nonn said that while he was not opposed to the revision of city policy in this particular case, he was certain the city had once approved an ordinance prohibiting use of city sewer lines by property owners outside the city limits.

"To legally approve this resolution it would be necessary to repeal or rescind that ordinance," Nonn contended.

City Clerk Robert Stevens reported that a search of the records had been made and that no such ordinance is on the books.

Alderman Emerald Dawes remarked that he favored the proposal but believed the city "should do this legally." Alderman Ronald Coleman said he believed permission to use sewers "could lead to annexation of the area" later.

Alderman Gerald Parmley told the council, "We are in a position of trying to attract more business to our city. We need to be more progressive in granting, and to grant the request would be a feather in our cap."

"This project means a new business, and more employment," he said.

On the roll call vote, Nonn cast the only negative vote. Those voting in favor were Aldermen Parmley, Dawes, Coleman, Earl Baker, Steve Basarich, Sam Whitmer, Roy Poulos, Clyde Boyd, Claude Green, R. E. Robertson, Everett Morlen and Frank Greenwald. Alderman William Dallas was absent.

$12,000 copper theft at plant

Six bundles of copper wire valued at about $12,000 were stolen from the mixed metal building of N. L. Industries Hoyt Plant (National Lead), 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, it was reported Monday.

The bundles weighed between a ton and 2,300 pounds each, according to company officials. It is believed a crane was used to load the bundles into a truck.

Tire tracks were seen near the construction gate to the Steel Packaging Division yard, 15th and State streets, where the lock had been pried open and a chain removed. Entry to the Steel Packaging Division was not believed gained.

The lock at the Hoyt Plant gate was stolen.

Supt. Pier to retire

Venice Superintendent of Schools John O. Pier submitted his resignation Monday evening to the Venice Board of Education, effective July 1.

He has served as Venice school superintendent for 18 years. Prior to that, he was an industrial arts teacher at Venice High School for 10 years.

His resignation was received by retiring Board President Leo A. Davinuro, who commented, "It is with a deep feeling of regret that I reluctantly accept John's resignation."

"There is no way we can thank John for the effort and heartache during all the years he has put into this school system. As a personal friend, I will do anything I can to help him in his retirement years," the board officer said.

Davinuro's remarks were echoed by incoming Board President Jack R. Tolliver and SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT John O. Pier of Venice, who announced his resignation Monday night to the Venice Board of Education. An educator for 33 years, Supt. Pier plans to retire July 1.

Slavic and East European Friends (SAEEF) of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold their ninth annual conference at SIUE Friday, April 26.

The opening session from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. in the faculty lounge on the third floor of the Loyola Library will be a seminar on the new federally-funded Ethnic Heritage Studies Program and SIUE's Slavic-American imprint collection. It will be conducted by Stanley B. Kimball, history professor at SIUE, and Edmund Phillips, research preceptor, Washington University.

A musical program featuring the St. Stanislaus Polish dancers of Madison will be presented from 5 to 6:30 p.m. in the University Center's Goshen Lounge.

Mrs. M. J. Hill of Granite City, president of SAEEF, will preside at a dinner and evening program, to begin at 6:45 in the River Rooms of the University Center.

Prof. Phillips, literary editor of Perspectives, a Polish-American educational and cultural quarterly, will speak on "What's in a Name? The Hidden Ethnic."

Following the talk by Prof. Phillips, Czech singers from the Czech Educational Center, St. Louis, will entertain.

An exhibit of Polish heraldry by Joseph M. Jasinski, St. Louis, also is included on the evening program.

SAEEF was founded in 1968 "to maintain an association of interested persons to preserve and foster Slavic and Eastern European culture and traditions in the U.S."

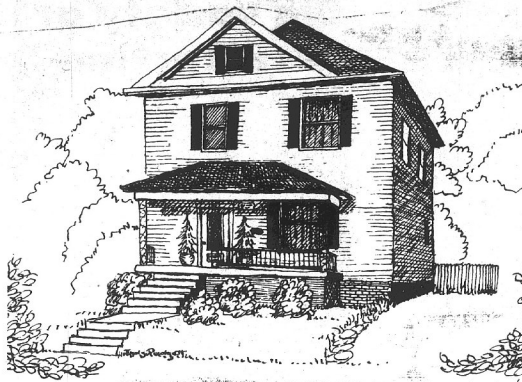

Reservations for the conference banquet at $5 each can be secured by writing Walter Bartholomew, Office of Conferences and Institutes, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville 62025. Checks should be made payable to SIUE.

Named to board on development

Gov. Dan Walker this week appointed Louis R. Silverman, a Chicago developer, as chairman of the Capital Development Board which he said will be responsible for $300 to $600 million in planning and construction of state projects during the coming fiscal year.

He also appointed Anthony J. Terlato of Chicago to the seven-member board. Its functions include acquiring land, and planning, designing and constructing all buildings for state use, including university and college construction.

May 5 home tour to feature ideas through renovation

By DONNA HARTWICK
Press-Record Staff Writer

"Take a Walk Through Another Era" is the invitation extended to area residents by the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society to attend its first annual house tour showing different stages of restoration and redecoration of older homes in downtown Granite City.

The tour is planned for Sunday, May 5, from 1 to 5 p.m. Tickets are available in advance at a cost of $1.50, or may be purchased for $2 on the day of the tour at any of the homes. Patrons may obtain tickets by calling Dick Melton, at 877-4327, or by sending a check or money order to Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society, P.O. Box 117, Granite City.

Five homes and a church to be included in the tour will feature many individual ideas for creating a modern, livable home while still retaining an atmosphere of graceful living of yesteryear.

To stimulate interest in the renovation movement, a variety of usable and decorative items will be offered for sale at a "Flea Market and Craft Show" according to Walt Padgett, society president.

The show will be housed in a Ralston-Purina tent, located in the side yard of one of the display homes at 2327 Cleveland Blvd., Padgett said.

Antique furniture will be displayed and original paintings, provided by seven artists from the Artist Boutique, a St. Louis artist's guild, also will be exhibited at the tent site. A professional portrait artist will be on hand during the afternoon event.

Homes on the tour itinerary will be those of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mathis, 2325 Cleveland Blvd., a two-and-a-half-story frame, redecorated in a semi-modern style.

Old woodwork has been replaced and all first floor walls have been replastered to complement this older home with its unusual bay windows and high ceilings.

The brick home of Dr. and Mrs. James Byers at 2317 Cleveland Blvd., was built in 1910 by the Carpenter family who lived there for one year. It was then purchased by Mrs. Byers' family, the Andersons, who owned and operated Anderson Furniture Co.

An extensive collection of antique furniture will be featured in the Byers dwelling, Padgett said.

A beautifully preserved oak staircase is the focal point in the entrance hall at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Hug, 2327 Cleveland Blvd.

Oak woodwork, art glass and leaded windows are found throughout the 11-room frame house built at the turn of the century.

The Hug home is in various stages of restoration as the family has converted a butler's pantry into a kitchen and turned the kitchen area into a family room. Work in the two rooms is completed. However, the remaining rooms are in the process of revival.

Charles Pauly, architect, designed and built the home at 2318 Cleveland Blvd., in 1906. The dwelling is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bob MacLaughlin.

The house has eight rooms on two floors. It features an exceptionally attractive corner fireplace and an unusual, built-in chest of drawers consisting of six drawers, four feet wide and ten inches deep.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Padgett, who originated the idea for a local restoration society, purchased a home at 2219 Delmar Ave., and have almost completed work on the 10-room dwelling.

The couple recently finished the living and dining rooms and added a library which boasts an old-fashioned pot belly stove that is usable. Two other working fireplaces are in the house, built in 1901. One is located in the living room and another is in the master bedroom.

St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, at 2101 Cleveland Blvd., constructed in 1903 on land donated by the Niedringhaus family. The family also plotted a large segment of the downtown Granite City area.

Church members in attendance on the day of the tour will review changes made over the years, highlighted by the installation of art glass windows in 1972, replacing glass installed in 1926.

The windows, designed by Gabriel Lori in Charters, France, are created in a contemporary design, mixed with ancient symbols, and represent the statement of faith of the United Church of Christ.

Twenty-two families are members of the Downtown Restoration Society, Padgett said.

Area residents wishing to visit the homes may do so at their leisure. No set pattern has been made for specific hours at any of the display homes, the officer said.

Mr., Mrs. Otto Schwartz to celebrate 50th year

Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Schwartz, 3336 Palm St., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at an open house from 2 o'clock to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameki Road.

Friends and relatives are invited to attend the celebration to be hosted by the couple's children. Individual invitations are not being mailed, a family spokesman advised.

Mr. Schwartz and his wife, the former Miss Anna Beckmann, were married on April 24, 1924 at St. John United Church of Christ, formerly St. John's Evangelical Church. The Rev. Karl Dexheimer officiated.

The couple has made their home in Granite City their entire married life. Both have been active members of St. John's Church for many years and Mr. Schwartz is a former president of the church governing board.

Prior to retirement in March 1961, Mr. Schwartz was employed at General Steel Industries.

The honorees have two children, Marvin Schwartz of Maryville, Ill., and Mrs. William (Imogene) Buer of Granite City.

They also have two granddaughters, Maureen Kaye Schwartz of Maryville and Deborah Ann Buer of Granite City.

Murphy-Stimac betrothal told

The engagement and forthcoming wedding of Miss Alice Stimac and Patrick Murphy are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stimac Sr., 1414 Grand Ave.

Plans are being completed by the betrothed couple for an Aug. 24 wedding at St. Mary's Catholic Church.

The prospective groom is a son of Mrs. June Murphy, 47 Glenwood Acres, Salem, Ill., and the late Walter Murphy. He graduated in 1965 from Salem High School and in 1969 from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, with a degree in chemistry. Mr. Murphy is now employed as a chemist at the Don V. Davis Co., St. Louis.

Miss Stimac is a 1969 graduate of Granite City High School and a 1973 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

She received a degree in elementary education and currently is working as a substitute teacher in both the Granite City and Madison school districts.

Rudders to sing at St. John

A post Easter service entitled "Easter is Blossoming forth in singing," featuring Larry and Jeanette Rudder of Granite City, will be presented at the 9 a.m. and 10:20 a.m. Sunday worship services at St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameki Road, the Rev. Dr. Paul Surbey announced.

Both guest musicians sing and are composers. Mrs. Rudder also plays the piano. They will sing various songs they have composed.

The Rudders are widely known for their gospel records. Larry Rudder has served as a Youth for Christ director, bible teacher and pastor. Mrs. Rudder spent part of her childhood in the Belgian Congo with her missionary parents. She is an accomplished pianist and has traveled extensively in concert circles.

Bethel Chapel revival Monday

The Rev. and Mrs. Bobby Mills of Hamilton, Ohio, will present gospel messages and songs at a revival beginning Monday evening at the Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church, 25th Street and Ohio Avenue, it was announced by the Rev. Clifton Gallier, pastor.

Services will start each evening at 7:30. On Saturday, April 27, a special recognition ceremony will be held for the bus ministry captains and volunteer helpers in the church, the Rev. Gallier said.

The guest minister, Rev. Mills, also is bus director of the Full Gospel Church of Hamilton. He will review the importance and outreach possibilities of a bus ministry.

The Granite City Park District will hold a meeting at 7 p.m. today in Room Three of the Namecki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues. Managers of Midlet, Juvenile and Junior baseball divisions will gather for the assigning of practice diamonds to teams in those divisions.

Olympic soccer trials Saturday

The site for this weekend's Midwest Olympic soccer trials for senior amateurs has been changed from St. Louis to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Bob Guelker, chairman of the Midwest Olympic Selection Committee and head soccer coach at SIUE, said an organizational meeting for players will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, and play will begin at 1 p.m.

Collegiate players who missed the earlier trials due to playing with Big Four and Pepsi in cup competition April 5-6 will be eligible for this weekend's trials.

South hopes for repeat county track meet win

Madison and both Granite City high schools are among 12 Madison County high school varsity track and field teams which will compete Tuesday, April 23, in the annual county meet to be held at the Highland Community High School Athletic Field on Illinois Route 143.

In addition to the three area schools, scheduled to compete are Wood River, Roxana, Bethalto, Triad, Highland, St. Paul of Highland, Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville. The five larger schools, Granite City North and South, Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville, will be pitted in red division competition while the others will compete in the green division.

In past years, the meet consisted of 15 events, but this year two others have been added, the triple jump and 330-yard low hurdles. Both were added to track and field competition this season by the Illinois High School Association. GCHS South, which holds three individual records in the meet, will be attempting to repeat last year's first-place team victory.

South athletes earned 95 points to top Alton (87), Edwardsville (25) and Collinsville (19) in the red division.

Granite City North, as a new high school, will be competing in the meet for the first time. Madison's Trojans, who set six individual records in past meets, will seek to better their third-place finish last year in green division competition. Finishing order of that division was Wood River with 54 points, Roxana 42, Madison 37, Bethalto 34½, Triad 36, Highland 24½ and St. Paul of Highland 10.

Madison County trackmen have already bettered some of the meet's past times and distances in competition this season, an indication that some of the established records will fall this year.

Records still standing in the red division are:
Discus—S. Birger, Collinsville, 178-1½, 1969; 120 yard high hurdles—Mike Allen, Granite City, 14.6, 1969; 100 yard dash—Morris Bradshaw, Edwardsville, 9.6, 1970; 800 yard dash—H. Carroll, Alton, 1:56.9, 1963 & 1964; 800 relay—Alton, 1:30.7, 1970.

Quarter-mile run—Sweetetham, Alton, 50.2, 1967; 180 yard low hurdles (straight)—A. Johnson, Alton, 19.3, 1962; 180 yard hurdles (curve)—Mike Allen, Granite City, 19.85, 1970; mile run—A. Andrew, Alton, 4:25.6, 1971; 220 dash—Scott, Alton, 21.8, 1970; mile relay—Alton, 3:24.4, 1970; High jump—Celsor, Alton, 6-4½, 1970; Long jump—A. Wallace, Alton, 24-7¼, 1968.

Pole vault—Robert Kratz, Granite City, 13-5½, 1972; shot put—Economidis, Alton, 58-3, 1962; two-mile run—Martin, Collinsville, 9:43.8, 1972.

Green division records are:
Discus—Hale, Wood River, 147-7, 1970; 120-yard high hurdles—Bernes, Roxana, 14.6, 1971; 100 yard dash—Edward Chandler, Madison, 9.9, 1972; 800 dash—Claspeadie, Wood River, 2:04, 1970; 800 relay—Madison, 1:33, 1970; 440 run—Tecuhshea Holmes, Madison, 51.6, 1970; 180 yard low hurdle—Vann Ford, Madison, 20-45, 1970.

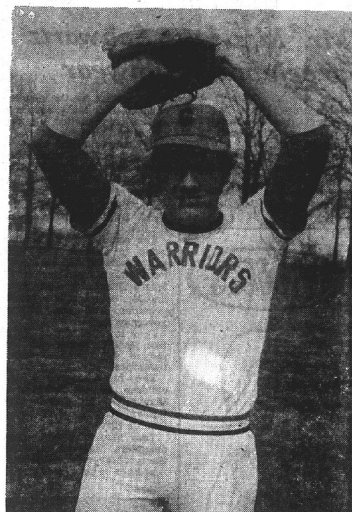

Mile run—Timson, Roxana, 4:37.5, 1970; 220 dash—George Tyus and Edward Chandler, Madison, 22.5, 1970 & 1972; mile relay—Wood River, 3:32.7, 1972; High jump—Roach, Roxana, 6-1½, 1970.

Long jump—Brennan, Roxana, 20-11¼, 1971; pole vault—Siderner, Triad, 13-0, 1970; shot put—D. Stanton, Roxana, 57-2, 1971; and two-mile run—Box, Triad, 10:12.9, 1970.

Preliminary events will begin at 4 p.m. and opening ceremonies and finals will begin at about 6 p.m.

1974 Speedway season to open

New faces and cars will intermingle with the more familiar stock car racing drivers and vehicles tomorrow when the Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Namecki Road, opens its gates at 7 p.m. to the 1974 season.

Making their first appearance in the late model stock car division will be two former sprint car drivers, Jimmy Moughan of Springfield, Ill., and Tom Corbin of Marshall, Mo.

Bill Scherer, the only hobby car driver to capture four consecutive track championships at the Bellevue Speedway, has entered a car formerly driven by Clyde Lindemann.

Madison's George Gruenfelder will transfer his racing skills from the Highland track to Tri-City.

Glen Jacoby of Collinsville, replacing Bruce Humphrey at the microphone, will call the qualifying lineup for late model and hobby division cars at 7 p.m. sharp.

Admission to the speedway is $2.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. Children under six are admitted free of charge.

Local sprinters lead SIUE team

The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville track team returned Monday from Charleston with two new school records set in the Eastern Illinois University Relays during the weekend.

For the second straight meet, junior Virgil Johnson set a new mark in the shot put with a heave of 45 feet, one inch, breaking his old mark by six inches.

The Cougars' mile relay team also broke the old SIUE mark. With Granite Cityans leading the way, Carl Mason, Mike Allen, Greg Becker and Joe Pashea combined for a 3:25.4

clocking, which bettered the old record of 3:26.8 set last year.

SIUE placed in four events of the 21-school meet. No team standings were kept.

Junior high jumper Kevin Dooley placed third for the Cougars with a 6-4 bound.

Mike Allen, a junior, finished fourth in the 120-yard high hurdles with a time of 14.8 seconds. SIUE placed sixth in 300-yard hurdle relays in 50.2 seconds.

Sprinter George Tyus, a senior from Madison, ran the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds, good for sixth place.

2nd GCHS state baseball title? District play at Edwardsville

Defending state baseball champion Chicago Public League, which blanked Belleville West 3-0 before a crowd of 4,190 spectators in last year's title game, will be seeking to become only the second school in history to win back-to-back titles at the 35th annual Illinois High School Association state baseball tournament June 6 and 7.

DesPlaines (Maine) won in 1959 and 1960.

A record 498 schools, including Madison, GCHS North and GCHS South, have entered the tournament series, which gets under way at 112 district sites May 9, 11 and 13.

Seven survivors of district, regional and sectional tournament play will be joined by the Chicago Public League champion in state finals to be held at Edwardsville, Ill., June 6 and 7.

The three Quad-City area schools have been assigned to Edwardsville district competition, with South drawing a first-round bye. Collinsville and North will meet in the first game, and the host school and Madison will meet in the second contest.

The winner of the Edwardsville meet will join the Dupu, Wood River and Lebanon district winners on May 20-22 for regional competition, also to be held at Edwardsville.

The regional victory will advance the Springfield Griffin sectional on May 27-29 to help decide a state tournament entry.

Chicago area schools have won the last five state titles, and seven of the last 10. Host Peoria took the title in 1965 and 1969, while Springfield Griffin — the only Peoria school ever to win the championship — prevailed in 1964. Belleville and Merton East led in team titles with four each.

Granite City won in 1948.

To become state champion, a team must win a minimum of nine straight games during the series. All games are scheduled to be seven innings in length, but the 10-run lead rule (after five full innings) will be in effect for the tournament series.

Stanton scored on a sacrifice bunt with one out and again when a runner was hit with a thrown ball at third base. The opposing team then scored on a fumbled ground ball to shortstop.

Stanton increased its lead to 4-0 in the fifth.

North rallied in the sixth as John Scott walked, Larry Pier singled, Harvey Breckner drove in with a single and Mark Davis hit a run-scoring flyball.

Stanton took advantage of another fumbled grounder in the bottom of the sixth for its final run.

Steele's hits were by Scott (3), Petri (2), Breckner and Ed Schmitt.

Dave Heth and then Daris Davis entered the game as relief pitchers for North in the fifth inning.

Supt. Pier

other board members.

Pier will remain as superintendent until July 1, working as usual through May 31 and beginning a month's vacation on June 1, he said.

A successor to Pier was not named at Monday's reorganization meeting, although a board officer indicated that Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers may likely assume the post.

Supt. Pier will be 58 on July 3. He is planning to retire and continue living in Venice, he said, noting he has a daughter who is in her sophomore year at Venice High School.

The administrator suffered a serious stroke two years ago from which he has made a remarkable recovery, physicians said.

A native of Decatur, Ill., Supt. Pier played football for four years at Decatur High School from where he graduated in 1935. He worked in industry for one year then entered Eastern Illinois State Teachers College at Charleston, graduating from there in 1940.

At Eastern, he was president of the Fidelis Fraternity, vice-president of Epsilon Pi Tau National Industrial Arts Fraternity, taught safety education and driver training and was named to the 1940 Bluebook for Outstanding Educators.

Supt. Pier worked briefly for the Illinois State Board for Vocational Education at Mount Vernon, teaching woodworking and machine shop and also assisting the state supervisor.

He joined the Navy as a chief machinist's instructor and was assigned by the Navy to set up a machine shop with 700 work stations at Great Lakes Naval Training Station and to supervise the training of sailors in the shop.

Supt. Pier spent 21 months at Great Lakes before joining the crew of the SS John Isaacson and later the SS Alva Victory, merchant marine vessels, as a gunnery officer.

The next few years he traveled to every corner of the Pacific Theatre of Operations from Guadalcanal to the Solomon Islands and Australia to Cebu, India, crossing the equator 14 times. His ship was in the midst of the entire campaign which resulted in freeing the Philippine Islands.

Supt. Pier was released from the Navy in October 1945 and resumed his teaching career at Venice. He taught at a Dania (Florida) high school, coming to Venice School District in July 1946.

He earned his master's degree in 1951 from the University of Illinois and became a Venice superintendent in 1956.

Active in many community programs, Supt. Pier is a member of the Venice Lions Club, Venice Civic Organization, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 1308, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 307, Madison County Administrators, Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities, Delta Kappa Educational Fraternity and Epsilon Pi Tau Engineering Fraternity. He serves as the current secretary of the Venice Police Pension Board.

Commenting about his 33 years as an educator, Supt. Pier said, "I have seen the schools virtually change from the state and backward to the computer, from the outdated one-room school to the modern unit district organization. Looking forward, 33 years seems a long time. Now, looking back, it is but a short span and might be compared to a dream."

"Since it is impossible to change the inherent nature of individuals and since each individual must begin from scratch, evaluating an educational program is very difficult and in part needs to wait on the development of the individual," the administrator said.

"I feel that we in the Venice School System are quite fortunate education-wise. Our schools are fully recognized and accredited and are very well staffed. Besides this, they are members of a Special Education cooperative and participate in several Title programs."

"Those wishing to further their education, all are encouraged to take advantage of the state's throw of a university, a junior college and an adult center. All of these offer quite extensive programs," Supt. Pier said.

"The profession with its opportunities to work with students, teachers, parents and employees has been a rewarding one, which not only gave me the chance to serve but also to become rich in friends," he concluded.

Trojans take overtime game 5-4, errors help

Kevin Ditch, with two out in the eighth inning, scored on three errors to give Madison High School a 5-4 victory over Mater Dei of Breese Tuesday on Madison's home diamond.

Both teams had scored in the opening inning of the game and Madison pulled ahead 2-1 in the second. Two runs by Breese and one by Madison in the fourth deadlocked the contest at 3-3.

The opposing team, after scoring a run in the fifth, held a 4-3 lead going into the seventh inning.

The Trojans sent the game into an extra inning when Kevin Ditch was held in check by the catcher and Ditch walked. A fly to centerfield by Emmett Timmons advanced Ditch to second.

"Our hearts were in our throats," said Coach Ron Davis, "and there was a big sigh of relief when Algie Crawford singled to left field." The fielder was playing close to the infield at the time.

Ditch was held as second on the play, but on the next pitch the catcher tried to pick him off with a throw to second.

The ball sailed over the infielder's head and Ditch headed for third, where a throw from centerfield went wide and the Trojan continued toward the home plate.

The winning run was scored when the catcher missed a relay throw from his teammate at third base.

Collecting hits for Madison were Verba, three; Crawford, two; and Werner and Timmons.

Henke went the distance, walked one and struck out 11. He held Mater Dei to five hits while his team collected seven and committed seven errors. Breese erred five times.

The victory upheld Madison's record to 4-2 and dropped Mater Dei to 0-6.

Girls' volleyball now interscholastic sport

"Volleyball on the interscholastic level," remarks Jean Snuggs of the Illinois League of High School Girls' Athletic Associations, "could be the fastest growing girls' team sport in the state."

Girl's volleyball competition is in its first year as an interscholastic activity, with one out of every ten member schools adding the sport to its program.

The state has announced that volleyball will join tennis, bowling and track in having its own district and state championship meets, beginning next year.

"Conferences are becoming more established and volleyball league championships will be decided throughout the state," Mrs. Snuggs noted. "Interest in the sport has mushroomed."

Both Granite City High School South and North are engaging in the volleyball program, with a four-game season schedule.

North will open its season at 6:30 p.m. today against the St. Warriors at South's girls' gym.

South lost its season opener to Waterloo, defeated Dupu and then captured the Waterloo invitational this month.

North's squad will play host to Valmeyer at 6:30 p.m. Monday for its second contest of the season.

County questions car costs

The Madison County Board took a hard-line stand against Bo Beckman Ford Co. of Collinsville Wednesday concerning cars recently purchased for the Sheriff's Department.

The board approved payment of a $103,775 contract for 35 new sheriff's cars, but instructed the state's attorney's office to investigate whether a breach of contract was committed by the auto agency and if the county was entitled to have some of the money returned. Also in the bill approved was $304 for titles and licenses.

On a 21-6 vote, the board approved a motion not to allow the county to convert the future business with the agency after the present warranty on the new cars expires.

The board alleges that, although specifications for the cars called for factory installation of air conditioners, the agency actually installed units in Collinsville which cost less and were inferior.

A question also arose as to the quality of the automobile radios, compared to the quality called for in the specifications.

On a separate vote, the board unanimously agreed to withhold payment of a claim of almost $8,000 by Bo Beckman Ford for installation of gun racks, emblems and bar lights on 22 of the cars. Board members said they felt the $96 to $116 per car fee was too high for the work and added they did not know who had authorized the work.

One board member commented, "If this work is being paid for from federal revenue sharing, we could get in trouble. The government is particular about how that is spent."

The board referred to committee several proposed changes in the merit system for the sheriff's department, one which would make retirement at age 55 mandatory, another increasing the maximum number of lieutenants from three to seven and the number of sergeants from three to 10, and another strengthening the wording of the section which prohibits officers from participating in political activities.

Trattler's MEN'S

Debates a gamble that could vault Stevenson toward '76 Presidency

By KEN WATSON
Press-Record
Springfield Bureau

The 1974 Illinois U.S. Senate campaign, expected to be one of the 'dullest in the state's history, may turn out to be of national significance.

It may attract attention from afar not because of the closeness of the race, but by the way the campaign is conducted.

The contest between heavily favored Democratic incumbent U.S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson and Republican challenger George Burditt promises to offer a refreshing change in the current climate of American politics.

Stevenson, 43, and Burditt, 51, are respected, scholarly, articulate public figures. They have promised to keep the campaign on a high plane.

Stevenson, as a state legislator and state treasurer, and Burditt, as a legislator and participant in other major governmental activities, are regarded as men of proven word.

Nevertheless, there was some surprise when agreement was reached for six joint campaign appearances of the two candidates, the first to take place in Rockford May 18.

There have been past efforts to recreate the historic Illinois Lincoln-Douglas debates.

In the 1948 Senate campaign, Democratic challenger Paul H. Douglas made use of the empty chair device to dramatize the refusal of Republican incumbent C. Wayland "Curly" Brooks to debate him. Douglas upset Sen. Brooks in the election.

There is some similarity between the 1948 campaign and the current one in that Brooks was well known and a predominant favorite and had a mixed record of electoral success.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Thurs., Apr. 18, 1974

Brooks, in the classic pattern, refused to share his own spotlight with a lesser-known opponent.

There is some puzzlement in Illinois political circles as to why Stevenson has agreed to do so with Burditt. Stevenson is an overwhelming favorite, but why take any chances?

One theory being advanced is that Stevenson not only wants to win big this year, but that he hopes to do so in a fashion that will compel national Democratic leaders to consider him as a possible Presidential nominee in 1976.

The fact that the Democrats have no clear-cut leader for the nomination—and that Stevenson bears a name which twice bore the Democratic presidential banner—give his Presidential aspirations some substance.

Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts is the front-runner in polls but may not be willing to run.

Helping Stevenson's 1976 prospects is the obvious fact that Americans are tired of "politics as usual." They are tired of old tactics as well as old faces.

By engaging in a high-level series of issue-oriented debates with an opponent of the class of Burditt, Stevenson could well introduce a new and refreshing element into current American politics.

The question does arise: What if he should "lose" the debates? This is not a possibility to be totally overlooked. Burditt is probably Stevenson's match in intellectual brilliance and is no mean wit himself.

Statehouse strategists have figured all along that his only long-shot chance to win in November would be to persuade Stevenson to debate face to face. But Stevenson scored well in his 1970 joint appearances with the late Ralph T. Smith, a native Granite Cityan who was serving in the U.S. Senate by appointment.

Illinois voters in November may find themselves electing either a new U.S. senator or, indirectly, the next President of the United States.

Alfred Wiedower succumbs

Alfred H. Wiedower, 59, of 624 Lincoln Ave., Venice, a retired steelworker, died at 7:44 a.m. Wednesday at Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient three days.

He was a member of St. Mark's Catholic Church and belonged to the VFW Post 1208 and Eagles, both of Alton, and Steelworkers Union Local 1785.

Mr. Wiedower resided in the Quad-City area 36 years. He was employed 26 years at Laclede Steel and retired in 1971.

His wife, Mrs. Hazel A.

Wiedower, died Jan. 12, 1972. Survivors include a son, Ernest P. Wiedower of Collinsville; five sisters, Mrs. Freda Hicks, Mitchell, Mrs. Ed (Pauline) Coelker, Venice, Mrs. Neil (Tina) Howard and Mrs. Robert (Abby) Rotter, both of Granite City, and Mrs. Emanuel (Martha) Sponer of Hattiesville, Ark.; two brothers, Clem Wiedower of Granite City and Joe Wiedower of San Diego, Calif.; his mother, Mrs. Josephine Wiedower of Venice.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

George Kuzma dies at 63

George W. Kuzma, 63, of 2824 Hodges Ave., died at 8:40 p.m. Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in Alton. He had been in ill health for three months and hospitalized six weeks.

A lifelong resident of Granite City, Mr. Kuzma was a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church. He had been employed as a machinist at the Conaco plant in Madison for several years.

Mr. Kuzma belonged to the Greater Beneficial Union.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna (Eck) Kuzma; two sons, Milton Kuzma of Grays Lake, Ill., and George Kuzma Jr., Granite City; one sister, Mrs. Ann Eck of Glen Carbon; a brother, Frank Kuzma of Granite City and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Rally beats South, 5-1

Walks, a hit, a stolen base and two doubles enabled host East St. Louis Senior High to tally all its runs in the sixth inning and defeat GCHS South 5-1 yesterday.

South's lone run came in the third inning when Mike Martinez singled to left field, stole second and scored on a double to right by Greg Linhart.

Warrior pitcher Ray Smith walked two and struck out three enemy batters while allowing three hits in six innings. Ken Crawford and John Serlich shared the mound in the seventh for South.

Each team collected five hits in the errorless game. Other South hits were by Dave Dombek, Mike Gagich and Jim Kafka.

Gresco, Harbison pace golf squad

Don Gresco and Mark Harbison each shot a three-over-par 39 on the front nine holes at Frank Hollen State Park Golf Course yesterday but East St. Louis Senior High golfers defeated GCHS South, 203-211.

Other Warrior scores were: Brad Bickhaus 43, Chris Lewis 44 and Ron Motil, 46.

Tennis shutout

Warrior netmen made a clean sweep yesterday to blank East St. Louis Senior High 5-0 on the Flyers' home courts.

Bill Busick won 6-0, 6-0; John Bruch 6-1, 6-0; Mark Brusati 6-1, 6-4; Frank Faulkner and Jerry Osborn 6-1, 6-1, and Bill Berger and Mike Page 6-1, 6-4.

Highland victory

Highland's Tim Gehring shot a one-over-par 37 on the back nine holes at Wood River's Belk Park yesterday to lead his team to victory over GCHS North and Wood River. Highland totaled 163 and North and Wood River tied at 171.

Score for the Steelers were: Tim Behrens 40, Rick Bohnenstiel 43 and Dave Dodson and Jim Lewis, 44 each.

Clutch basehit wins for South

The baseball Warriors of GCHS South captured their first Southwestern Conference game in six attempts, defeating Edwardsville 6-5 here Monday.

A two-run, no-out single by Jim Kafka in the bottom of the seventh inning broke up the game.

South held a 3-1 margin at the end of the first inning and added one run in the third. Edwardsville rallied in the top of the seventh with four runs for what appeared to be a sure Warrior defeat.

The top of the Warrior batting order kicked off the bottom half of the final inning. Mike Stanton singled and advanced to second on a safe but by Dave Dombek. Gary Hiller walked to load the bags. Kafka hit a pinch-hit single to left to score Stanton and Dombek.

Starting pitcher Kirk Champion allowed only three hits while striking out eight batters in six innings. He was replaced in the seventh by Bud Pranza.

Warrior batters outlived the Tigers 13-4 and ended once the enemy's four misuses.

Collecting hits for South were Mike Martinez three, Paul Mushill two, Stanton two, Champion two and Kafka, Greg Linhart, Dombek and Hiller. "We are really starting to move," remarked Coach Conrad Champion. "I only hope it's for real."

Our safety "three games," he added, "were pitched by juniors, and they have performed with excellence."

One of those junior pitchers, Greg Terrell, hurled a one-hitter Tuesday in South's non-conference 5-0 win over Roxana at Wilson Park.

Terrell walked two and struck out nine while his team collected eight hits and committed no errors. Roxana earned three times.

South scored two runs in the fifth inning and in the seventh Catcher Mike Stanton hit a three-run homer. Jim Bladdick was second and Mike Martinez on first base, both having singled.

Warrior hits were made by Martinez three, Stanton two, and Linhart, Hiller and Bladdick.

"Martinez," noted Champion, "has hit safely in 12 of 16 times at bat in the last five games." Granite City South is now 3-8 overall on the season.

Shearry earns three firsts in track meet

Trojan Willie Shearry captured three first places and one second, but the Madison High School track team lost at home Wednesday to Columbia 71½-69½.

Shearry, in the high jump, cleared 5-6. He triple jumped 37-9½, and had 11-6 pole vault accounted for his other victory.

He was second behind teammate Chris Stanley, a 16.9 performer, in the 120-yard high hurdles.

MHS Trackman Joe Young captured first in the 100-yard dash (10.4) and Trojan Lamon

Garrett was third. Young took first in the 220-yard dash (24.2) and Garrett won the 440-yard dash (55.9).

Mike Walker won the two-mile in 10:40.

Trojans finishing second were James Turner shot put and discus, Alfred Crawford long jump, Walker 800 run and 330-yard low hurdles, Garrett in the triple jump and Osbert Lomax in the pole vault.

Earning thirds were Rodney Walker, Lomax, Young, Derek Maple and Thornton Wiggins.

Support for ERA

The Equal Rights Amendment has support in the Illinois legislature. It was indicated Wednesday when the House rejected a resolution that would have barred submission of a constitutional amendment for it.

By heavy votes, both the Senate and House acted to limit pending business to appropriations and revenue matters, plus "emergency" topics gaining two-thirds Rules Committee approval.

The House yesterday defeated a proposal to put merit selection of judges on the November ballot. The plan called for appointment of judges nominated by a special commission.

Gov. Daniel Walker said in a talk at Springfield Wednesday that a tax raise could result if legislators add to his proposed budget.

Separate reports were submitted on the economic impact of the present eight per cent interest ceiling on Illinois home mortgages.

A newly-introduced House bill would return the state to standard time Oct. 27.

A bill filed Tuesday by Rep. Monroe Flynn, a Granite City steel employee, would reduce the state dog registration fee from $4 to $1.

Another bill would reduce the tax on mobile homes.

A legislative report urged formation of a publicly-paid bureau of race track police to replace horse race tracks' internal security police.

It was announced that State Sen. Betty Ann Keegan (D-Rockford), 54, died of lung cancer Tuesday in Rockford. When the Illinois House returned Tuesday to its remodeled chamber, it was found that the microphones were not in operating condition, and a number of legislators had to shout their remarks.

A citizen group is suing to oust the Illinois environmental director, Richard H. Brice, because he is on the federal payroll.

official estimated that the education rate per $100 assessment will be 15 cents in BAC and 26 cents in Lewis and Clark.

"Aside from the difference in the tax rates, everyone is concerned about the quality of education."

"Lewis and Clark has only a parallel liberal arts program while BAC has a broad program in industrial, technical, vocational and parallel liberal arts," the Chamber official said.

"BAC has been in operation for over 40 years. Lewis and Clark is just in its initial stage of development, having operated five years without construction of educational facilities."

"Local industry is concerned because Lewis and Clark may not have the facilities, fund, expertise, interest and programs necessary to establish classes in the Quad Cities to help train production workers and leaders."

"BAC has already planned those classes and worked with local school authorities and industrial people to establish the kind of instruction that is needed."

"Educationally speaking, citizens of the entire Quad-City area believe this entire community should be served by BAC, which is an established district operated effectively and efficiently."

"A quality industrial-business instructional program is necessary to replace the sound vocational and adult education programs that we are accustomed to in this community."

News notes

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron this week began his own investigation into allegations that several Lewis and Clark Community College guards and a deputy sheriff were involved in removal of a law enforcement class test paper from a classroom.

Fred B. Chamberlin, 47, is to be arranged on a charge of robbing an East Alton savings and loan firm last December. After his arrest Jan. 4, he was suspended as Alton Box Board Co. research-development director.

Pay of five SIU officials exceeds the $50,000 salary of Gov. Dan Walker. They are four Medical School officers and Hiram Lesar, acting president of SIUC. SIUC Pres. John Rendeman is paid $45,000. A study had shown that, not counting SIU, 17 of the 20 highest-paid Illinois state employees were on medical school staffs.

Watson infant dies Wednesday

Lynn Lee Watson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett (Robyn) Watson, 3900 Gaslight Walk Apt., died at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, 38 minutes after birth.

Private services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at a Granite City funeral home. Burial will be at Sunset Hill Cemetery, Edwardsville Township.

QUIET BEAUTY

Johnson Sauk Trail park appeals to nature lovers

Editor's Note: This is one of a series on Illinois' state parks and memorials.

By JOAN MURARO

KEWANEE — Five hundred springs feed the 96-acre man-made lake which is the focal point of Johnson Sauk Trail State Park in the rolling woods and meadows of Henry County in north central Illinois.

Located six miles north of Kewanee, and six miles south of Interstate Rt. 50, the 867-acre park is named jointly to honor the Sauk Indians who lived nearby, and Sen. Frank P. Johnson of Kewanee, who worked to get the park established even when engineers said the dam couldn't be built because of soil problems.

The park today still displays the quiet beauty and solitude which made it attractive to wildlife and popular with early Indians. Rich in game, fur-bearing animals and water, the area first attracted the mound builders, who left a sealed mound, believed unexcavated, a few miles southwest of the park site. Later the Sauk, Fox, Winnebago, Kickapoo, Potawatomi, Kaskaskia, Peoria, and Piankashaw Indians established their villages in the region.

Many conservationists believe that at one time the area just to the north of Johnson Sauk Trail park was one of the most concentrated wildlife habitats on the North American continent. The region, chiefly marshland, was commonly known as the Great Willow Swamp and ran for miles through the lowlands between the Rock and Mississippi rivers.

The area was included in the Great Northwest Territory and given away by the king of France in 1722 to the Company of the Indies. The firm became bankrupt in 1759 and the tract returned to the French, who ceded it to Britain in 1778.

Shortly after the American Revolution, in 1778, the territory became the County of Illinois, in the state of Virginia. It was 1825 before it had 350 residents and qualified as an independent Illinois county, and didn't have self-government until 1837.

The "Sauk Trail" part of the name is believed to derive from Chief Black Hawk, whose tribe lived in the area, and who achieved fame through the Black Hawk War. In modern times, the site was originally chosen for lake construction in a statewide project in the '40s, but in 1949 the plan was abandoned because of soil problems. With Sen. Johnson's continued efforts, and improved dam building techniques, the project was resumed in 1955 and today the lake, with 2.3 miles of shoreline and a maximum depth of 26 feet, centers the park, fed by three creeks as well as the 500 springs.

The park's chief appeal is to nature lovers. There are nine trails, mostly through woods but some winding through meadows. Birds, rabbits, opossum, raccoon, deer and other animals abound. In winter if weather permits, there are ice skating, ice fishing, tobogganing, and winter camping. In summer, rental boats are available with a launching ramp for private craft. No gas motors are permitted; electric trolling only is allowed. There are campsites both for tents and trailers, with some electricity, as well as picnic sites and tables at scattered picnic sites, most of them around the lake.

Trails and campsites reflect the Indian heritage; trail segments include the Peoria, Ojibwa, Winnebago, and Piankashaw, all named for tribes, whose camps are named for Chiefs Tecumseh, Pontiac, Keokuk, Black Hawk and Shabbona. (It was Chief Shabbona who reportedly rode three horses to death to warn the early settlers in his area near Ottawa that Black Hawk had crossed back into the area at the start of the Black Hawk War. In gratitude, the settlers allowed the chief for the rest of his life to enter any hotel, store or business place and take what he wanted, eat what he wished and sleep where he desired, without charge. He is buried at Morris, in Grundy County, and the grateful residents of Ottawa raised a monument over his grave.)

The park, like other state parks and nature areas, is administered by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Bandit takes drugs

An armed robber took an undetermined quantity of "Class A" controlled drugs and some petty cash from the Tri-Cor Pharmacy, 21st Street and Madison Avenue, at 2:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Aaron Adams, who was working in the pharmacy at the time, said a man entered and asked him for throat lozenges. When Adams walked behind the drug counter, the man followed him and placed a revolver at Adams' side, it was reported.

Adams then was ordered to "put all the Class A drugs in a bag." He complied and the robber took the bag and a small amount of cash from the store's safe, officers were told.

The robber then told Adams to go into a closet and stay there five minutes. Adams stayed in the closet a short time and then called police.

Held for FBI

A 33-year-old Birmingham, Ala., woman and an East St. Louis man were arrested by Granite City police, assisted by Granite City Steel security guards, at a steel company lot at 6:40 p.m. Wednesday, and were held for Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, suspected of interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

Police first were notified that the two appeared to be taking gasoline from autos in the steel company lot. Upon investigation, they found that the car was stolen. No charges had been filed against the two this morning.

The woman was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for pain from a broken shoulder which she suffered in a fall about seven weeks ago. She was returned to jail after treatment.

Rally not enough as MHS bows 10-8 to Assumption

MHS baseball Trojans got hits by Jon Henke, Mike Stanley, Steve McCunney, Algie Crawford and Cedric Wilson and scored four runs in the seventh inning, but the home team yesterday, but failed to overcome Assumption in losing 10-8.

Neither team scored in the opening inning but the Trojans put together eight runs and two hits in the second while Madison won the game.

Henke led off the seventh with a single past the shortstop. Stanley singled and Henke scored when the centerfielder bobbled the ball.

McCunney, with two out, doubling to left to drive in Stanley and then Crawford also doubled.

With hopes of helping pull the game out of the bag, Crawford scored as Wilson singled to make it 9-8. But a ground ball to second provided the third out.

Assumption left two stranded in the seventh after adding another run.

Madison outbait the visitors 12-7, but committed five errors to Assumption's three. Steve Marty was the winning pitcher.

Collecting hits for Madison were McCunney, who was three of four, and Crawford, Wilson, Kevin Ditch, Henke and Stanley.

The Trojans will engage in a makeup contest at home at 4 p.m. today against Waterloo.

Varied events to mark 'Beta Sigma Phi Week'

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

From a humble beginning in Abilene, Kan., when seven members pledged themselves to search for culture and social activity, Beta Sigma Phi has expanded its role to international scope.

Present enrollment shows more than 228,000 active members in over 9,000 chapters in 29 countries throughout the free world.

Along with Beta Sigma Phi chapters around the world, 115 members of seven local chapters will observe the 43rd anniversary of its founding during Beta Sigma Phi Week, which starts in this area Tuesday, April 23 and continues through April 30.

A proclamation to this effect was signed Monday evening by Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City.

Earlier this spring, Governor Dan Walker of Illinois designated a similar honorary week throughout the state, starting April 27.

Climaxing the celebration here will be Beta Sigma Phi Night at Busch Stadium, St. Louis, on Saturday evening, April 27, when Mrs. Sandy (Noel) Innes of Granite City will join an illustrious group of world celebrities with presentation and induction as an International Honorary Member. The event will take place during a Cardinals-Cincinnati baseball game.

Mrs. Innes is the widow of Navy Lieutenant Roger B. Innes, who has been missing in action since December 27, 1967 when his aircraft disappeared on a mission over North Vietnam. No word of the Naval officer's fate has reached the Granite City resident to date.

The observance was formally initiated Monday night when Beta Sigma Phi members attended a meeting of the City Council of Granite City and Mrs. Imogene Forrest, president of the Beta Sigma Phi City Council, a representative group reviewed the organization's history and detailed local achievements for the elected officials.

The week-long celebration also will be preceded with presentation of a $150 check Friday to Floyd Fischer of the Madison County Nursing Home staff, Edwardsville.

The funds are being donated to purchase reclining swings for the facility's new patio area, Mrs. Forrest said. A previous donation enabled light-weight lawn furniture to be added to the nursing home grounds.

On Sunday, an area convention will take place at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville.

A "Gourmet's Delight Buffet" dinner party is planned by local Beta Sigma Phi chapters at 6:30 p.m. Monday at Granite City Moose Lodge 272, according to Mrs. Norma Rains, president of Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter and general chairman of Beta Sigma Phi Week.

Area businessmen, civic leaders and news media representatives are being invited to attend the dinner and help inaugurate the celebration, she stated.

Other activities arranged for the special week include visits to merchants and industrial firms to deliver posters and explain the purpose of Beta Sigma Phi on Thursday, April 25; an informational parade Friday, April 26; and attendance at area churches on Sunday, April 28.

Winding up the week will be a "Founder's Day" banquet in the Officers Club at the Granite City Army Installation on Tuesday, April 30.

Beta Sigma Phi is not a college sorority, Mrs. Forrest said. Neither is it a service organization, although its members experience the joy of helping others through many charitable endeavors, she pointed out.

Beta Sigma Phi contribute to their community and to many projects, worldwide in scope.

From the Research Center for Cancer in Boston, Mass., to a home for war-wounded in Texas and across the ocean to a small African village, chapter members help through individual gifts and joint service efforts.

Local women in seven chapters take part in numerous fund-raising campaigns, aiding the March of Dimes, Cancer Crusade, Cystic Fibrosis, Muscular Dystrophy and Multiple Sclerosis research programs, among others.

On an individual basis the members are actively engaged in many areas of service, Mrs. Forrest said.

Mrs. Jana Gallardi of Granite City, a Pi Eta member and a former resident of the Philippines, was responsible for creating a 18-foot red, white and blue "Welcome Home" sign which greeted released prisoners of war upon their arrival last year at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines from North Vietnam.

Beta Sigma Phi chapters in the Quad-Cities and their current presidents, are: Pi Eta, Mrs. Cheryl Gibson; Nu Zeta, Mrs. Shirley Parmley; Xi Epsilon Chi, Mrs. Martha Santoro; Theta Theta, Mrs. Julie Gates; Theta Iota, Mrs. Barbara Wagner; Xi Epsilon Chi, Mrs. Norma Rains; and Iota Psi, Mrs. Jo Ann Kalert.

Three new progression chapters were formally inducted in ceremonies last night, including Preceptor Beta Gamma and Xi Gamma Omega, Mrs. Rains advised.

Reception Sunday to honor Rev. Mack

Final plans for the silver jubilee reception on Sunday honoring Rev. Henry Mack, pastor of St. Joseph Catholic Church, were made at a meeting of St. Ann's Altar Society.

Guests are invited to attend the celebration from 1:30 to 3 p.m. in the church hall, Mrs. Margaret Minzes, society president, has announced.

William O'Connor of Springfield observed the jubilee event on Wednesday for the Rev. Mack and seven other priests, who were among the first class to be ordained by the prelate.

Another class member is the Rev. Robert Morris, who served as an assistant pastor at St. Joseph Church from 1961 to 1965.

The Rev. Mack's first appointment was assistant priest at St. Joseph. After several other charges, he returned to the Granite City Church in 1972.

During the meeting, annual commission reports on community affairs, organizational service, church community, international and family affairs were presented.

During the meeting five-year pins were presented to Barbara Oris and Mary Modica. Mrs. Schooley, who transferred from another chapter, was welcomed as a member.

Coming events planned by the group include a "bike hike" in the spring for the benefit of St. Jude Hospital; and attendance at a sorority board meeting at the Sheraton Inn, Mattoon, on Sunday.

"King of the Road" will be the theme of a hobo party at the home of Mrs. Modica and a bowling party will be held at 12:30 p.m. April 28 at Brunswick Tri-Mor Lanes.

accounts set up for the public library, police and fire pensions, bond costs, the arterial street fund and the sewage treatment plant, leaving projected net operating expenses of $4,010,785.

This figure applied against the anticipated income of $3,238,283 leaves the expected deficit of $862,502, the report showed.

The council was informed that the present budget figure of $5,138,283 is based on a present annual payroll of $1,902,836, anticipated employees' insurance costs of $140,342, and other budget expenses totaling $3,095,104.

In a half-hour discussion of budget items during Monday's council session, Alderman Sam Whitmer protested that the budget did not include an appropriation for the possible acquisition of right-of-way that still may be needed along the old Washburn railroad line from W. Pontoon Road to 28th street for construction of a new road from the Nameoki area to the downtown district, a project that has been under consideration for ten years. The city already has much of that right-of-way.

Farmley replied that "There still are some things that have to be put in the budget. The committee can only list the things it sees and the council will have to do the rest."

The budget proposal submitted Monday night most certainly would increase in an amount commensurate with whatever salary increases are agreed upon by the negotiating committee headed by Whitmer. Whitmer told the council that negotiations with employee representatives were to get under way this week. Agents of all unions representing city employees have notified the council that they wish to reconsider their contracts this year.

Council members agreed to study their budget copies this week with a view toward suggesting possible cuts during the council's next meeting Monday night.

Permits to raise structures in the first half of April were to: Virgil Kirksey, 2120 Waterman, raise garage; James Lansaw, raise two-room cottage at rear of 2601 E. 24th St.; and David Rickey, raise garage at 2716 Nameoki Road, $30.

Delay dog fee plan

The Madison County Board Wednesday delayed action on a controversial plan to charge $4 per dog for a county dog tag and to distribute the money for improved humane facilities and to farmers whose livestock or poultry have been damaged by packs of dogs.

The plan calls for one-third of the money collected to be placed in a fund for farmers whose animals are killed by dogs. Farmers whose animals are insured will collect the county's money and the insurance reimbursement will then go to the county. The plan also called for half of the money collected to go to municipalities for rabies control programs. Paul Riebold, board member from Troy, commented the distribution formula would not leave enough for the county to manage the program. He asked that the motion be tabled saying, "If this was passed, we would go broke." His motion was passed on an 18-10 vote. Homer Henke, board member from Moro, criticized a group called the Animal Health, Safety and Humane Control Society from Alton, saying it had only four members and was attempting to pressure the county board into taking action without proper consideration.

"Are we going to allow four persons to control the county?" he asked. "Madison County has been praised as having one of the top pounds in the state and top rabies control programs. A member of the society says the dogs suffer in our gas chamber. How does she know if she has never been in a gas chamber?" he said.

The issue was referred to the county's animal health committee for consideration with possible action at a future board meeting.

O. W. Crawford dies at 48

O. Wayne Crawford, 48, of 2433 Benton St., a lifelong resident of Granite City, died at 9:05 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital where he had been admitted eight hours earlier.

He was employed as an inspector at Granite City Steel where he had worked for 18 years.

Mr. Crawford was of the Presbyterian faith. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Lillian Crawford; a daughter, Miss Kathy Crawford; and one son, Robert Crawford, both at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Crawford; two brothers, Herschel and Don L. Crawford; four sisters, Mrs. John (Dorothy) Roy, Mrs. Leonard (Norma Mae) Diak, Mrs. Joel (Betty) Tester and Mrs. James (Pat) Bernick, all of Granite City.

Infant dies

Kimberly Ann Buckels, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Buckels of Lee Wright Homes, Venice, died at 4 a.m. April 14 at Cardinal Glennon Hospital, St. Louis.

The baby was born April 13 at St. Elizabeth Hospital and transferred to the St. Louis hospital. She weighed four pounds, 11 ounces.

Funeral services are pending at an East St. Louis funeral home.

VAN IS LOOTED

Items valued at about $500 were stolen from the van of Mark Hatcher, 1809 Pontoon Road, parked at Hatcher's home, it was reported at 8 a.m. Tuesday. Taken were a radio, a tape player and radio combination, four speakers and about 50 tape recordings. A hidden key was believed found and used to open the van.

STEAL MINIBIKE

The rear overhead garage door window was broken and a minibike was stolen from the garage of Fred Stille, 2130 Dewey Ave., it was reported at 5:05 p.m. Monday.

Joseph Budosh dies at 65

Joseph A. Budosh, 65, of 824 Washington Ave., ill for three months, died at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

A native of Yugoslavia, he had resided in Madison for 32 years. Mr. Budosh worked at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison 30 years as a shipping checker prior to his retirement. He was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and belonged to Steelworkers Local 1785.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ann R. Budosh; one daughter, Mrs. John (Joan)

Youth faces two charges

John Ray Rippy, 19, of 3030 Circle Drive, was arrested at an apartment in the 2100 block of Benton Street at 3:50 a.m. Tuesday and charged with resisting arrest and battery after he reportedly fought with a police officer.

Police said they went to the apartment to arrest him for allegedly being absent without leave from the military service. A fight between Rippy and an officer reportedly began and the officer struck Rippy with a flashlight to stop the fight, it was reported.

Rippy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital but declined treatment for a wound to the back of his head.

Another 19-year-old was arrested in the apartment with Rippy and was held for being AWOL from the military. Later Tuesday morning, another youth turned himself in to Granite City police and said he, also, was AWOL. The three were placed in the custody of military police.

Venice, Madison join in enforcement grant plea

A resolution authorizing a joint application with the City of Madison for a Law Enforcement Commission grant under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968, not to exceed $50,000, was approved by the Venice City Council Tuesday night.

The Madison City Council approved a similar resolution in a special meeting Tuesday night.

Eligibility for the grant is limited to police units of 50 or more fulltime officers. While Venice and Madison have a total of 32, city officials said they believe that a waiver of this requirement is possible because the communities are combining their request, and because the two cities work in close harmony.

The money may be used to obtain new crime prevention equipment.

A letter from Sheppard, Morgan, and Schwab, consulting engineers, calling for a resolution to appropriate $35,000 to cover the city's share of improvements of Collinsville Avenue was referred to the street committee for further study.

The proposed project calls for the paving of Collinsville Avenue from McCombs to Madison avenues. The westernly part of Collinsville Avenue is in Venice.

Charles Sammelman, 66, dies

Charles Sammelman, 66, of 2029 Cleveland Blvd., a Granite City resident for 16 years, died at 5:30 p.m. Monday at Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville. He had been ill eight years.

Born in St. Peters, Mo., Mr. Sammelman, resided in St. Charles county for 40 years and St. Louis, Mo. for 10 years prior to moving to this area.

He was a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church. Mr. Sammelman worked for 30

Under the Federal Aid Urban System, the federal share would be $30,000 and the Venice share $5,000. Madison's share would be $14,000 and the federal share $19,000.

Second Ward Alderman Hank Svesta reported to the council that he had received numerous complaints from people about junk cars and trucks in a lot in the 700 block of Brown street. Acting Mayor Lloyd Patterson instructed Wesley Edwards, city health inspector, and Ralph D. Brawly, chief of police, to check into the matter, determine who owns the junk vehicles and take steps necessary to have the area cleared.

Venice Police Officer James Harold was commended by the council for excellent grades he made while attending basic police officers' training the past six weeks. Officer Harold finished in the top 10 in a class of 35 new officers.

"His record at school certainly indicates Harold will make a fine police officer and the council commended for his work at school," Mayor Patterson stated.

The council approved the treasurer's report for March which listed a general fund bank balance of $83,329, total receipts of $117,577 and disbursements of $40,883.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. David (Marguerite) Roody of Troy; one brother, Leo Sammelman of New Jersey, and a sister, Mrs. Frank (Frances) Yust of Englewood, Fla.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Ex-resident heads revival

The Rev. Randall McCaskill, a former Madison resident who now resides at Niagara Falls, N. Y., returned to his former hometown church, Mount Nebo Baptist Church, 800 Jefferson St., Madison, this week to conduct revival services.

The revivals began Monday and will continue through Sunday.

The Rev. McCaskill, a graduate of Madison High School, holds a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in theology.

The Rev. Jerome Jackson, pastor of the Mount Nebo Baptist Church, has invited area residents to attend the remaining revivals at 7 p.m. tonight or tomorrow, or to contact the church for additional details.

REV. RANDALL McCASKILL

Vacate street, alley areas

An ordinance vacating Nash Street between 20th and 21st streets, and the alleys in that area between Nash and Omaha streets was approved by the Granite City Council Monday night on both first reading and final passage.

The area is owned by Granite City Steel which has maintained the area for many years. Neither that section of Nash Street nor the alleys have been used as public areas in recent years. The area now is used as parking areas for steel company employees.

The ordinance provides that the city shall retain easements for a 24-inch sewer line through the former alley areas and for public utilities along Nash Street.

An ordinance establishing controls over doghouse and maintenance of mobile homes in Granite City was approved on final passage. The bill had been placed on first reading April 1.

Ask the Governor

Q. We live in a high tax area but we have no recreational acreage or parks, although some open space exists that could be set aside for this purpose. Is there any way the state can help us acquire this land for recreational purposes and parks?—Chicago.

A. Grants from two programs—one federal, the other state—are available through the Illinois Department of Conservation to assist local governments in acquiring recreational land. They are the Federal Land and Water Conservation Fund and the Illinois Open Spaces Land Acquisition Act.

Both provide partial reimbursement of land acquisition cost to such local governments as park districts, counties, townships, municipalities, conservancy districts and forest preserve districts. The Land and Water Conservation Fund is a long-standing federal program administered by the Department of Conservation for the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, U.S. Department of the Interior.

Conservation Department responsibilities include preliminary approval of proposed local projects and dispersal of the funds allocated to Illinois after final federal acceptance.

The Open-Space Land Acquisition Act is a new state-aid plan, enacted by the General Assembly last year and in operation since December.

Although they are similar in operation, benefits, and scope, there are two major differences between the programs.

First, projects submitted under the federal program must receive both state and federal approval, while Open Space Land Acquisition reimbursements require only state Conservation Department acceptance.

Second, federally-assisted projects are reimbursed at 50 percent of cost. Under the Open Spaces program, reimbursements are now 75 percent. However, the reimbursement rate will be 60 percent from July 1, 1976 to June 30, 1977. Thereafter, the rate will be the same as the federal rate: 50 percent.

Both programs require local governments to complete and pay for the acquisition and improvements before reimbursement is made.

Projects are approved and reimbursements awarded according to priority criteria used under either program. These include:

- 1) Need-as determined by available acres of open space (per 1,000 residents) already acquired by the governmental body.
- 2) Side characteristics—esthetic qualities, value of the site for the use proposed.
- 3) Local incentive—availability of bonding power; agency's history of using bonding power in the past; and its record in maintaining existing facilities.
- 4) Planning—extent to which the agency utilizes good planning techniques, in the proposed project as well as in other projects, and its enforcement of regulatory measures, such as zoning laws.

Representatives of local governing bodies may obtain additional information and applications by contacting the Conservation Department's Federal Aid Coordinator, Pat Dennis, 605 State Office Building, 400 S. Spring St., Springfield, Ill. 62706.

GC amends budget—upward

With only two weeks of the current fiscal year remaining, Granite City Council members Monday night enacted an ordinance amending the city's 1973-74 appropriation bill to cover costs in some areas that exceeded budget projections in the original measure.

The ordinance provides changes in appropriation figures in 14 city accounts and lists budget increases totaling $177,028. Only one decrease was included in the changes—a drop of $1,000 in the contingency item of the Fire Department.

The amended appropriation provides for increases of $2,100 for the Fire Department, $27,655 in the Street Department, $2,272 for the Police Department, $6,222 for the Inspection Department, $12,521 in the Sanitation fund.

An increase of $1,085 in the Humane Department, $1,102 in the Sewage Treatment plant, $41 in Civil Defense, $114,305 in the sewer maintenance account, $176 in the Parking Meters—fund, $7,000 for Municipal retirement and $1,000 for the street survey, a new item.

The $114,305 increase in the budget for sewer maintenance was made to cover additional costs of repairing sewer lines in the Nameoki area where 28 breaks in sanitary lines have occurred since February 1973. The budget increase for sewer repairs was $112,000, while other sewer maintenance increases involved $305 for additional clerical help and $2,000 for billing operations for the $114,305 total.

The additional appropriation for sewer repairs brings to $1,512,000 the total appropriation for that purpose. At the beginning of the 1973-74 fiscal year ago, the city appropriated $800,000 for sewer break repairs and at that time finance officials felt certain not all of that amount would be used.

Two months ago, however, billing for sewer repairs by an East St. Louis contracting firm, the Finis P. Ernst Co., was well over the $1 million mark. The City Council at that time amended the appropriation ordinance, setting the revised appropriation at $1.4 million for sewer break repairs.

A bill for sewer repairs during March totaled $210,000, bringing the total repair cost past the $1.5 million level. The amended appropriation will cover the repair costs for the 1973-74 year, since the April billing will be paid in May under the new 1974-75 budget now being prepared by council members.

$2,887 burglary at GCHS-North

Business equipment worth $2,887 and electrical tools worth about $500 were stolen during a burglary at Granite City High School North which was reported at 1:25 p.m. Monday.

There were no signs of forced entry into the building, but the glass in a door on an inside hallway into the business education room was broken, it was noted.

Principal Gilbert Wainsley said he was at the school about 10 p.m. Sunday and noticed several lockers had been opened and looted, but said the door to the business education room was not broken at that time.

Business equipment taken included seven electronic calculators, two textbooks, an electric typewriter and a stapler.

School initiate

The national freshman women's honorary organization, Alpha Lambda Delta, observed its 50th anniversary today at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign. Initiates this spring include Gail A. Waldo, 520 Fleming Place, Mitchell.

The society was founded at Illinois and now has chapters throughout the nation. Its purpose is to honor high scholastic achievement during the first year of college.

Over 600 juniors, seniors and their guests will attend a Granite City High School South-North prom Saturday at the downtown Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel in downtown St. Louis.

Dinner will be served at 3 p.m., with doors opening at 7:30 p.m.

Following dinner, dancing to the music of Fred Zettler and his orchestra will take place.

The theme for the evening is "They Way We Were."

The prom is being held jointly because the seniors involved have gone through all but one year of school together.

Student Council Advisers Miss Sharon Smegner of South and Harry Cook of North are co-ordinating plans for the event.

In a spirited election in which 1,200 of the 1,400 students at Granite City High School North voted, John Royce, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Royce, 2471 Waterman Ave., was elected Student Council president for next year.

Other officers elected in an off-campus election were: Terry Bax, first vice-president, and Pam Reinhardt, second viceapathetic and irresponsible as so many people have claimed."

Retiring officers this year addition to President Morlen are Laurie Morris and Kathy Miller, first and second vice-presidents respectively. The new officers take over at the beginning of the next term.

An annual meeting and election of officers of the International Hospitality Group will be held at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Eden United Church of Christ, 903 Second St. Edwardsville, club officials announced today.

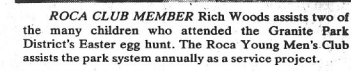

The organization was initiated to assist foreign students attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, while living in this country.

Gov. Dan Walker has proclaimed the week of April 15-19 as "Illinois School Bus Safety Week," and the Office of Superintendent of Public Instruction along with the Educational Service Region Office of Madison County have joined him in stressing bus safety.

The Veterans Service Center, Inc. of Southwestern Illinois will conduct an open house and informational seminar Friday from 1 to 4 p.m. at its East St. Louis and Alton Centers. Local, state and federal officials have been invited to attend to acquaint themselves with the organization's veteran self-help programs.

The group also has offices here at 2037 State St. The VSC is now funded by a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity and assists veterans in areas of employment, education, pensions and compensation, drugs, health care and related problems.

C. E. 'Corky' Townsend retiring from Press-Record today; his 47-year career was dedicated to the concept of a newspaper as a public trust

C. E. Townsend, who is retiring today as publisher and consultant, always took pride in the long service at the Press-Record by many of its staff members.

He exemplifies this ideal, having been connected with the newspaper continuously for his entire professional career of 47 years. His roles included tenures as news reporter, advertising salesman, editor and publisher.

His thinking is illustrated by his comments at the time of a mechanical shop expansion in 1958: "The finest equipment in the world is of no value without conscientious and skilled men and women. The Press-Record is singularly fortunate in this respect in every department."

"Most Press-Record staffers are deeply rooted in the Quad-Cities; they share with the editor a concern for the well-being of the people here and of the community itself that transcends all else. One expression of this is the active participation by many in a wide range of community endeavors."

"As the only newspaper here, there is an added burden of responsibility to be accurate, thorough and fair."

"There is no mystery about how a newspaper gets its news or formulates editorial opinions. Trained personnel are in daily contact with literally hundreds of private citizens, organizations, institutions and public officials."

"Out of this never-ending reservoir—gathered with a liberal amount of general reading—ideas and opinions are generated."

"Only a newspaper puts forth the time, effort and money to assemble this myriad data and then interpret

The FORUM None truly free if rights are denied

To the Editor: I would like to make a few comments on the letter, "Laws helping officials, not citizens," which appeared in the April 8 issue.

He begins with a brief, oversimplified explanation of the separation of powers as they relate to our federal government.

He comes to the conclusion that our legislative branch is making a "political plaything of the Watergate scandal" and that our "whole judicial system is in jeopardy."

To address the former point, if one considers that the President has made a plaything of his laws, then it would be fair to say that Congress has made a plaything of the Watergate scandal.

In reference to the latter point, inherent in the idea of separation of powers is the checking of the checks and balances.

This has been implemented in regard to our judicial system so that the President nominates and the Senate confirms our Supreme Court justices and various other federal judges.

If our judicial system is in jeopardy, it is because either the President has nominated men of inferior capabilities to the bench or the Senate has failed to properly scrutinize the President's choices.

In the past four years, the Senate has rejected two of President Nixon's nominees for the Supreme Court.

Maybe our "whole judicial system is in jeopardy" because the President continues to nominate men who are subject to political manipulation.

If we remember that many of the President's nominees and appointees are now under indictment or have been convicted, then this is a fair appraisal of the situation.

The April 8 writer also would like to see these principles set forth by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence.

Among these are liberty and equal and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

John Kennedy reminded us that when any citizen is denied rights, none of us is truly free.

He also makes the point that the people are to blame for allowing elected officials to usurp their rights. He is completely correct.

Finally, as if to prove his patriotism, he closes with the oft-heard expression, "God bless America."

The ideals of a true patriot and lover of democracy should be to attempt to secure for all citizens these principles set forth by Thomas Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence.

Among these are liberty and equal and that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

John Kennedy reminded us that when any citizen is denied rights, none of us is truly free.

Seek state energy self-sufficiency

To the Editor: Illinois is one of the few states in this nation with the ability to become self-sufficient in the production of energy to warm our homes, run our transportation system and power our industries.

It is not to achieve that independent status, we in state government need to join together to forge a team of government leaders and industrial and natural resource experts to chart a single, unified course of action.

I am pleased that Governor Walker agrees and that he has graciously consented to join me in proposing the creation of a bipartisan Illinois Energy Resources Commission.

There is no room for competitiveness between branches of government in trying to find solutions to this very real and immediate crisis.

Governor Walker and I share this conviction that we can look forward to early success only if we act now.

That means we must actively work together—governor, legislature and public—to make Illinois a state of clear skies and energy self-sufficiency.

As an American technological genius, we add Illinois' public commitment to make this goal a reality.

Simpler taxes could increase their fairness

By U.S. SENATOR
STUART EYINGTON

It is mid-April and most of us have just mailed our Form 1040 to the Internal Revenue Service. For many Americans, taxes have become a burden which they believe is inequitably distributed.

Economists use a variety of standards to measure taxes but there are two important standards in a democratic form of government by which we should judge our income tax system—simplicity and fairness.

Certainly we have fallen short in the first category. The basic form 1040 contains 64 lines. A major industry has grown in this country just to assist individual taxpayers to complete the requisite forms.

It is not difficult to recognize a lack of candor in the system. Each of us is given a $750 personal deduction from the 70 per cent bracket by $25. A person in the lowest tax bracket—14 per cent—only benefits by $105.

The same rate structure which saves a wealthy family 70 cents on every dollar of mortgage interest payments only reduces the tax of the low-income bracket home owner by 14 cents on the dollar.

The Internal Revenue Code has become so complex that the designated tax rates of 14 per cent to 70 per cent serve more to disguise than to reveal the actual rate of taxation.

More than a decade ago, a Brookings Institute economist found that, on an average, the maximum tax rate paid by any income class was less than 30 per cent.

A more recent survey of 1972 income levels tends to support the same conclusion—that the effective tax rate is less than 30 per cent on income below $50,000 to 9 per cent at $100,000. The maximum effective rate of taxation was projected at 32 per cent at income levels of $1 million and above.

While it is relatively easy to cite such examples and advocate tax reforms, there are several reasons which make the actual achievement of law changes a formidable goal.

In many respects, the Internal Revenue Code is like the trading stamp industry. Just as some customers insist on receiving trading stamps as a "cash" currency when they buy certain goods, many taxpayers just might not contribute to important educational and charitable institutions of our society unless there is a tax savings to them.

Quite justifiably, the mortgage interest deduction has helped encourage many Americans to purchase their own homes.

And the deduction for charitable contributions has provided a similar incentive for many to support worthy, worthwhile, non-profit organizations.

Nevertheless, several tax reform proposals offered in recent years merit thorough consideration by Congress.

One is a recommendation by Sen. Mansfield to provide for the expiration of categories of tax preferences at staggered intervals in the future.

By this method, Congress and the public could focus on particular tax preferences and ask if they are achieving their intended purposes and should be continued or phased out.

Another possibility is a bill offered by Sen. Hatfield of Oregon. This reform—called Simpliform—concentrates on the tax rates and seeks to eliminate virtually all deductions and exemptions.

One is a recommendation by Sen. Mansfield to provide for the expiration of categories of tax preferences at staggered intervals in the future.

By this method, Congress and the public could focus on particular tax preferences and ask if they are achieving their intended purposes and should be continued or phased out.

Another possibility is a bill offered by Sen. Hatfield of Oregon. This reform—called Simpliform—concentrates on the tax rates and seeks to eliminate virtually all deductions and exemptions.

Voters show preference for experienced officeholders in four elections

Experience in public office is a highly respected asset when new elective terms are being decided. Quad-City voters showed in school balloting April 13 and in Tuesday's special election in the city of Venice.

George Moore Sr., Donald Stucke and Harold Davis retained their positions on the Granite City Board of Education and will begin adding to their collective total of 22 years of service on the board.

Other incumbents re-elected were Elmer Taylor, Jack Tolliver, with a combined 16 years on the Venice School Board, and Elvers P. Johnson, who has experience as a member of the Madison School Board. With two incumbents retiring, William Fichte was elected in Venice and Frank Eaves in Madison.

Additional qualified candidates also sought board posts in Granite City and Venice, and the competition brought out one of the highest voting turnouts ever recorded in the Granite City community unit school district—5,259.

While some people may be disappointed that specific candidates did not win, it is a healthy situation for voters to be able to choose from such a large assortment of candidates.

In the Venice municipal election, William M. Ebersoldt was named to the office of mayor to fill the vacancy created by the death of Dr. J. E. Lee Jr.

While Mr. Ebersoldt has no direct experience as chief executive of the city, he has lived here for 20 years and has much understanding of the issues facing Venice, together with considerable knowledge of how to solve them.

They have run in the ground and held our system of government and our President up to constant slander and ridicule.

They should state only the facts, not the rumors. I don't give a darn what some politician has to say about the news; we can think for ourselves.

I know how any man could take the assaults and slanders that Nixon has withstood and not have a complete physical or mental breakdown, and I admire him for the job he has done for this country.

Nixon didn't make any big hubbalooboo when Mayor Daley of Chicago withheld thousands of dollars in the presidential race between John Kennedy and Mr. Nixon.

Stealing votes from Nixon made a difference in swinging the state of Illinois and the whole election to Kennedy.

What worse crime is there, than stealing our votes?

Why is it that, in every election, and you know this is true also on the local level, there are so many fake registrations of voters, sometimes 20 people registered in an address of a vacant lot, and the only way to challenge it are the Republican Party.

Doesn't it follow that the Democrats are the ones doing the cheating?

There are no complaints about Presidents Johnson and Kennedy claiming a big deduction on their income taxes for their papers. It is only Nixon they fear.

In this country, everyone is supposed to be assumed innocent until he is found to be guilty. Have we tried to dig up dirt about him or his brother all the way back when they were young?

Anyone who can withstand that kind of scrutiny of all his past life can't be a bad man.

Consumer protection has a high price tag

Many of our worst economic problems today can be traced to the remnants of a favorite childhood myth: Just rub the magic lamp, or persuade your mother to wave the magic wand and the most intractable problems will vanish.

As adults, we're too sophisticated to believe in magic (or at least we were, until recently) so we substitute the word "government" for the magic lamp.

It is not surprising that friendly spirits invoked at a younger age.

It has become established folklore in some circles that the cure for any problem is to set up a federal agency to solve it.

That practice didn't solve many problems, but myths die hard. We are now being told the cure for federal agencies that don't work is another federal agency to make them work.

Such is the reasoning behind the push for a "Consumer Protection Agency."

The original federal regulatory agencies, established to protect the consumer, have turned into servants of the industries they regulate.

They need a more aggressive agency to intervene with the old agencies on behalf of the consumer.

That's the reasoning behind the push for a "Consumer Protection Agency."

Pontoon Beach & Stallings
MRS. LUCILLE MARTIN
4010 Breckenridge Lane

The young adult class of Cedar View General Baptist Church met at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Pat Dickerson, for devotion and fellowship.

Scriptural accounts of the Passover supper and foot washing were read. Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Moneymaker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Asbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Borth, Jim and Mike Potter and Penny Gozia.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Falter Sr. returned during the weekend from Daytona Beach, Fla., where they spent the winter months.

Mrs. Mabelle Centrell has returned to her home in Kansas City, Mo., after visiting her mother, Mrs. Leta Kollenbourn of Pontoon Road.

EASTER EGG HUNT
An Easter egg hunt was held for the junior department of Cedar View Baptist Church. Prizes were given to Jess Stallings, Angel Asbeck, Pam Evans, Judy Smith, Darren Montgomery and Tina Evans.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Chapman of Springfield, Mo., have returned to their home after visiting his aunt, Mrs. Leta Kollenbourn of Pontoon Road, and other relatives.

Miss Becky Falter and her house guests for the Easter holidays, Miss Mary Edwards, returned to school in Bolivar, Mo., on Monday.

U.S. future depends on youths—Gregory

Young people have the job of "civilizing this uncivilized country," Dick Gregory, comedian and social reformer, said in a speech Tuesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Speaking for more than an hour before a crowd of 500, Gregory warned that "America is in a lot of trouble," and that "the fate of the country rests on its youth."

"You (youth) must organize and talk about the sicknesses in America today," Gregory said. "We in America are morally bankrupt on one side, and nature's closing us out on the other."

Some of the sicknesses Gregory mentioned were widespread venereal disease, mental disease, alcoholism and drug addiction.

He predicted a large-scale food shortage. "We should have started rationing food 18 months ago. When we have to start importing hamburger meat, something's wrong," Gregory warned. "If we don't act on the sicknesses in America today, we won't be around in two years to see the 20th anniversary of our democracy."

"This country was founded on popcorn, bubble gum, pretzels, beer and fear... and you can't liberate yourself until you get rid of your fear."

In closing remarks, Gregory told young people they must say, "Honesty and integrity will become the cornerstone of America."

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos declared a state of martial law on Sept. 23, 1972, to combat rebellious forces.

Tolliver heads School Board in Venice

Jack R. Tolliver, a seven-year member of the Venice Board of Education, was elected president Monday night at the board's reorganization meeting.

Tolliver and Elmer A. Taylor had been re-elected Saturday to three-year terms on the Venice School Board, and William J. Fichte won his first board term.

Tolliver, 48, of 1250 Klein St., is a federal government employee and serves as Venice city engineer. He succeeds Leo A. Davinroy as board president.

Davinroy, a board member for 27 years, did not seek re-election. He had held the post of president for the past six years.

Taylor, a school board member for nine years, was named board secretary at the meeting at a salary of $150 per month. The post is rotated annually by board members and was last held by Fred Rumpf.

In other business, the board rehired Donald Phillips as district treasurer at a monthly salary of $150.

Also retained were Attorney Lawrence Hartman at the same monthly salary of $275, and Dr. J.C. Byers, school physician, at a monthly fee of $150.

A canvass of the April 13 district election disclosed no changes from previously reported totals.

Taylor topped the candidates with a total of 296 votes, followed by Fichte with 282 votes and Tolliver with 278.

Candidate William M. Gathright Jr. tallied 226 votes and Lucille M. Kalogerou collected 137 votes.

The board authorized issuance of $75,000 in tax anticipation warrants for building fund purposes.

About $122,159 in 1973 taxes, applicable to the building fund, is expected to be received by the Venice District starting possibly in mid-July, Superintendent John O. Pier said.

He noted that state funds owed to the district's building fund previously amounting to more than $7,000 for reimbursement of new cafeteria equipment.

Hartman said issuance of the warrants hinges on whether the bank will lend the money once taxes are being collected. The attorney stressed that the warrants do not have to be used at one time, but only as need dictates.

A proposed $136,820 budget for the Region 1 Special Education District briefly was reviewed, with Venice board members asked to state their approval at a later meeting.

The tentative budget, an increase of $11,904 over the 1972-73 figure, is eligible for a possible reimbursement of $32,000. The Madison, Venice and Granite City school districts form the special education region.

A Head Start program again will be conducted during the summer months for Venice and Madison youngsters, Assistant Supt. Robert N. Vickers announced.

Three teachers and aides already have been retained and the program director will be selected from the Madison School District, he said.

Vickers received approval to apply for a $10,000 federal grant to train five people from the Venice District in a drug abuse program.

He said a 13-day training series will take place in Chicago concerning drug related problems, with participants returning to their own district to conduct programs.

All costs connected with the training are reimbursable, the administrator said.

Several urgent repair projects for school buildings were recommended by Supt. Pier, who said, "Certain things are a must and should have been done six months ago."

Noting the Venice District's financial condition, Pier said, "I am afraid if we wait until the new tax money comes in, the work won't be finished by the time the snow comes again."

"These things have to be done before the end of summer and that means they must be started in May," he told the board.

Among the projects itemized by Pier were a new roof and flashing on the school's 1939 addition; roof moppings, flashing and replacing downspouts on the 1970 addition and office building; replacement of doors and broken windows, and tuckpointing a high school wall.

Okay refunds

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott on Tuesday directed the state Department of Revenue to begin paying $2.7 million in sales tax refunds to 330,000 persons who bought new cars and trucks in Illinois in 1971.

Scott said his legal battle to secure the tax refunds for Illinois citizens ended successfully this week when he was assured that his March 20 Illinois Supreme Court victory would not be challenged.

Some controls on food lifted

The Cost of Living Council on Monday lifted wage and price controls on supermarkets, food processors and some other facets of the food industry.

Still under controls are processors of frozen foods, the dairy industry and bakeries.

AN ORDINANCE ADDING TO AND MODIFYING ORDINANCE NO. 562 WHICH PROVIDES FOR THE LICENSING OF CERTAIN BUSINESSES AND OCCUPATIONS IN THE CITY OF F M D I S O N

PREScribing RULE AND REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CITY OF MADISON, ILLINOIS; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF LICENSE AND PERMIT FEES.

SECTION 1: That the City of Madison, Illinois, has found it necessary to examine and license masseurs and masseuses for the health, welfare and safety of its citizens.

SECTION 2: That this Ordinance shall be added to, and be incorporated in, and to be considered part of Ordinance 562, of the City of Madison, Illinois, and be known as "Article 43B—Masseurs and Masseuses."

SECTION 3: That the said "Article 43B—Masseurs and Masseuses" shall be as follows: "Article 43B—Masseurs and Masseuses"

SECTION 1: "Masseur and Masseuse" is any person who for monetary or non-monetary consideration engages in a method of treating the body for remedial, therapeutic, or hygienic purposes by rubbing, stroking, kneading or tapping the human body or its parts with the hand or an instrument. Provided, that said definition shall not extend to any physician, nurse, chiropractor, or medical technician working under the supervision of a physician.

SECTION 2: No person, firm or corporation shall employ as a masseur or masseuse any person who has not been licensed to engage in such occupation pursuant to the requirements of this Article.

SECTION 3: That no person shall engage in the activity of a masseur or masseuse within the limits of the City of Madison, Illinois, unless such person has been licensed so to do, or unless such person is exempted as provided for under Section 1 above.

SECTION 4: That in order for any person to be licensed as a masseur or masseuse such person must pay an annual license fee of $75.00 and furnish proof that he has taken and satisfactorily passed a course of study, amounting to or being equivalent to twelve (12) semester hours, in a physiotherapy at an accredited junior college or its equivalent; that such person has satisfactorily passed the examination for license of masseur or masseuse given by the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois.

SECTION 5: That the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois, shall give an examination for license as masseur or masseuse, at such times as he may direct. Provided that such examination shall be given at least two times in any calendar year during the months of March and August, with thirty day notice before each such examination being posted in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois.

SECTION 6: That any person desiring to take the examination for the license as a masseur or masseuse shall:

A. Make written application to the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois, for permission to take such examination for license as a masseur or masseuse no less than seven (7) days prior to the date designated for such examination.

B. Pay the examination fee of $50.00 to the City Treasurer of the City of Madison, Illinois, no less than seven (7) days prior to the date designated for such examination.

SECTION 7: It shall be unlawful for any person to knowingly make any false statement in his or her application for a test for licensure as a masseur or masseuse as to the name, age, residence and address, proposed employer and or employer, education, and misdemeanor and or felony convictions.

SECTION 8: That the City Clerk of the City of Madison, Illinois, shall maintain open and public records containing the names and addresses of all masseurs and masseuses who have been licensed by the City of Madison, Illinois, and the employer of any person or persons who will be employed as masseurs or masseuses shall be deemed to have constructive knowledge of the contents thereof.

SECTION 9: Any person, firm or corporation that violates or fails to comply with any provision of this Article shall be fined not less than Twenty-Five Dollars ($25.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) for each offense, and a separate offense shall be regarded as committed each day on which such person firm or corporation shall continue any such violation or failure.

SECTION 10: This Ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its passage, approval and due publication.

C. E. Townsend, retiring today, received many awards during his long newspaper career structure especially designed and built for that purpose and the building remains in active service, having been expanded on several occasions.

Campbell leased the Press-Record to Townsend on July 1, 1944, and sale of the newspaper to him was negotiated on April 1, 1947.

Ownership by Townsend, his wife, Ruth, and their daughters, Patricia and Nancy, continued until the spring of 1970, when the Press-Record was sold to the Post Corporation of Appleton, Wis. V. I. Minahan is president and David L. Nelson is executive vice president of the corporation.

At the time the Press-Record was being sold to its present owners, Townsend said his decision was influenced greatly by the "fine record and reputation of Post Corp. management."

"Collectively, they are a newspaperman's newspapermen, with a high degree of civic consciousness and community orientation."

"I know that under their ownership this newspaper will continue to grow and to be a viable force for progress."

In thinking back to the early days, Townsend said that "the hours were long, but they were interesting and exciting."

"The disastrous tornado of September 1927 was an unforgettable experience."

"In the years that followed, there were scores of gangland shootings and killings. This area seemed to be a dumping ground for victims; twice there were triple slayings."

"Gambling and vice flourished, as well as slot machines and the numbers racket."

"Dog tracks opened and closed, and bullet-proof cars were in vogue. Banks and casinos were held up. Kidnappings made news."

"These events were reported, and the newspaper vigorously editorialized until law and order were fully restored in the mid-1930s."

Continuing his recollections, Townsend notes that "the economic depression of the 1930s, which hit this community hard, was just beginning when William Berger, a successful and wealthy plumber, owned and started a rival weekly newspaper, the Granite City Tribune."

"It lasted but a short time and soon relinquished its quarters to the old Bulgarian newspaper plant at 1814 Delmar Ave., now occupied by Tri-City Printing Co."

"As the depression deepened, the Press-Record changed its publication days from Tuesday and Friday to Monday and Thursday, the same as today."

"Working only two days a week during the worst period of the depression, he shouldered the bulk of the news and advertising duties for the slim editions of the 1930s."

"Years of dedication to the precept that a newspaper is a public trust, with prime responsibility to the reader began to be recognized," Townsend recalls.

"Where once, in 1928, a Press-Record-conducted straw vote to merge the cities of Nameki, Granite City, Madison and Venice failed, in 1940 Granite City and Nameki almost merged and ten years later the proposal did succeed. This paved the way for Granite City's 'fabulous 1950s' growth era."

"In 1952, the Press-Record divested itself of commercial printing in order to devote full attention to the newspaper."

"We bought the Madison Republic, owned by Mrs. Irene Hitt, and the commercial printing of both papers was merged in the Tri-City Printing Co., later sold to the manager, Chester L. Baker.

"Many recall that once someone put a couple of 45-caliber slugs through the Press-Record office window (causing damage still partly visible to this day)."

"Threats were not uncommon at one time. But the clean-up achieved in the first postwar decade had a spirit of permanence, enabling the energies of many people formerly devoted to this task to be concentrated in subsequent years on progressive achievements."

"From a wartime news staff of two, the Press-Record has grown to a staff of seven news men and women and added state and national bureaus. There has been similar growth in the advertising and mechanical departments over the years."

"To complement the Press-Record's veteran professional staff, we have kept ahead of production demands, we carried out a continuing program of modernization."

"The 32-page Goss Universal press, color-equipped, was installed in 1958 along with a new equipment and a two-story annex to house new offices and provide space for additional press units in the future was constructed in 1967," he relates.

Diligent pursuit of its journalistic and service responsibilities led the Press-Record and its publisher to local, state and national acclaim."

Townsend received the coveted 1953 Meritorious Civic Achievement Award in early 1954. The annual judging was sponsored by the Associated Retailers.

"The citation said, 'For his journalistic crusade against the forces of organized gambling and vice, despite threats on his life and in the very best tradition of newspaper work; for his initiating reforms and improvements for the community above and beyond the ordinary call of a newspaper editor and publisher; and'

"For his wholehearted support of all civic activities in the Tri-Cities, with the final result being better public relations for the entire area."

Townsend was second in 1956 national judging for the Elkins Lovejoy "Courage in Journalism" award and also has been accorded recognition by a variety of national publications, including Publishers Auxiliary's designation as "editor of the week."

He has been selected by four Illinois governors for appointment to non-salaried posts on public bodies, including the Missouri-Illinois Metropolitan Plan Association, the Bi-State Development Agency, the Illinois Traffic Study Commission and the National Rivers and Harbors Commission.

Among 700 Illinois daily and weekly newspaper editors, Townsend was named "Illinois editor of the year" in 1957 at Chicago.

He served as editor a total of 26 years, until 1970. His successor as editor, William F. Winter, was the first employee hired after Townsend assumed control of the newspaper in the mid-1940s.

The statewide selection of Townsend as top editor of 1957 was based on "outstanding journalistic achievement" and listed a number of service projects, plus successful opposition to large-scale gambling and vice, and detailed news coverage of meetings of public agencies to help foster an active, informed citizenry.

Community activities cited on this occasion were school bond issues, hospital construction drives, United Fund support, city zoning, a new post office, water fluoridation, studies of innovative school programs, efforts to obtain the local university campus and emphasis on providing sewage and drainage.

Townsend was among those whose efforts were chiefly responsible for designation of Granite City in January 1959 as an All-America City by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine.

The U.S. Army accorded him its Patriotic Civilian award later in 1959.

In 1963, Townsend was honored by the Illinois Association of Consulting Engineers for encouraging Madison County to adopt a land use and zoning ordinance.

Two years later, the "master editor" title was bestowed on him by the Southern Illinois Editorial Association, which also has chosen the local newspaper for repeated citations on news and advertising excellence.

The "golden era" award given to master editors symbolizes membership in the Southern Illinois Editors' Hall of Fame.

Townsend was one of those instrumental in the drive for a large ice skating rink and recreation center in Wilson Park, an effort that culminated in a successful special election.

1966—Granite City Park District award for distinguished service is given to C. E. Townsend by William Kozzyk (left), representing the park commissioners.

This achievement was cited, along with his part in establishing Civic Park in the downtown area, when the Granite City Park District honored him for community service in 1966.

In 1967, Townsend served as honorary chairman of a successful campaign for more than $1 million to help erect the present Doctors' Wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The many organizations with which he has been closely associated have included the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley, the Granite City Rotary Club and Illinois Press Association.

Associates recall that the much-honored newspaperman seemed most touched by a 1953 trophy presented by the Press-Record staff on his 25th anniversary with the paper, and by the community-wide award given at a large dinner gathering in February 1954.

When the Meritorious Civic Achievement Award cup was presented to him in 1954, it was noted that Townsend was being honored "not just as a businessman, family man, civic leader or editor, but as an individual whose day-in and day-out drive for a better community has won him the recognition of the public, fellow publishers and government leaders."

He was described as publicizing "all worthwhile projects and drives. School, church and club activities have been reported as fully as news of crime and corruption."

"Acting as host to various interested groups, he helped pave the way in 1948 for sodium fluoride treatments to be started in local schools on a scale larger than anywhere else in the U.S."

"Other voluntary acts of mediation, combined with timely news coverage, have assisted in a variety of civic improvements, including expansion of sewer facilities, merger of Granite City and Nameki, improvement of traffic conditions, consolidation of school districts, acceleration of new housing construction and construction of new schools."

"Quick to praise public officials for progressive actions, he has not hesitated to keep a close watch on all local tax bodies."

"Always following a political philosophy which has kept his newspaper from becoming an advocate of either party, he has been honored by both Republican and Democratic governors of Illinois with appointments to high positions."

"His work as chairman of the Madison County Citizens Planning Committee of the Metropolitan Plan Association has included guiding the planning of new highway routes and coordination of projects too widespread or unsuitable for sponsorship at any levels of governmental structure."

Those making the tour included Kay and Harry Taylor, Norbert Homyer, James Kenney, Rose Earnhardt, Rose and Chuck Neher, William and Wilma Russell, Bernice Grimm, Robert and Sandy Shaw, Don Watson and Irma Buscemi.

Elks lodge members, accompanied by the Elks Easter Bunny (Joseph Buscemi), made their annual visit to St. Elizabeth Hospital and Colonial Haven and Colonades Nursing Homes on Easter Sunday, visiting the children's ward at the hospital and talking with patients at the nursing homes.

It was the fourth annual Easter tour of the institutions. Those making the tour included Kay and Harry Taylor, Norbert Homyer, James Kenney, Rose Earnhardt, Rose and Chuck Neher, William and Wilma Russell, Bernice Grimm, Robert and Sandy Shaw, Don Watson and Irma Buscemi.

It was pointed out that he helped form the Bi-State Development Agency, which developed Granite City harbor facilities in 1954. The harbor was called a possible "turning point leading this area into a new era of prosperity and growth."

Rev. Dr. A. Ralph Lynn, who presented the civic award, said that Townsend, "never content with being a good citizen and striving to have a good community are an integral part of running a good newspaper."

He concluded that "the respect and confidence of a community are goals which do not come about accidentally."

"Years of unbiased but unflinching reporting of facts must be accompanied by a devotion to the betterment of an editor's fellow citizens in order for him to gain the special place in everyone's heart which prompts such an award as this."

Democrat almost matched the GOP turnout Downstate, 422,101 to 442,217, and had a smashing edge of 752,130 to 201,356 over the Republicans in Cook County for statewide dominance of 1,174,231 to 643,573.

For U.S. Senator, incumbent Adlai E. Stevenson rolled up 822,248 votes to 169,662 for William H. Danahy in the Democratic primary. George M. Burditt totaled 432,796 against Lar Daly's 78,146 to win the Republican balloting.

Downstate-Cook County figures are 318,752-503,496 for Stevenson, 49,919-119,743 for Williams, 297,024-135,762 for Burditt and 50,667-27,479 for Daly.

The strike by Teamsters Local 688 which began April 10 at 8 p.m. against the Metal Services Co. in the Fox Industrial Park, Madison, was called Monday.

The new contract expires Dec. 31, 1976, according to Joseph Galie, union business representative. He said the new pact allows for a $1.40 an hour wage increase over a three-year period, plus improvements in health, welfare, and pension benefits.

Elks make 4th Easter tour

Elks lodge members, accompanied by the Elks Easter Bunny (Joseph Buscemi), made their annual visit to St. Elizabeth Hospital and Colonial Haven and Colonades Nursing Homes on Easter Sunday, visiting the children's ward at the hospital and talking with patients at the nursing homes.

It was the fourth annual Easter tour of the institutions. Those making the tour included Kay and Harry Taylor, Norbert Homyer, James Kenney, Rose Earnhardt, Rose and Chuck Neher, William and Wilma Russell, Bernice Grimm, Robert and Sandy Shaw, Don Watson and Irma Buscemi.

The home of Mrs. Lela Hiller, 2164 Edwards St., was ransacked but it is not known if anything was stolen, it was reported at 9:20 p.m. Monday. Entry may have been gained by a door which was not closed firmly enough to lock, the owner believed.

Nearly 2-1 Democratic edge in state primary, canvass shows

The statewide canvass of March 19 primary election results, announced this week, gives Illinois Republicans little or no hope of bucking the anti-Watergate trend.

Democrats almost matched the GOP turnout Downstate, 422,101 to 442,217, and had a smashing edge of 752,130 to 201,356 over the Republicans in Cook County for statewide dominance of 1,174,231 to 643,573.

Harry Page defeated Mrs. Jeannette H. Mullen 267,307 to 236,441 for the Republican state treasurer nomination.

Mrs. Mullen led 84,285 to 67,180 in Cook County but Page had an advantage of 200,147 to 152,146 over her in the other 101 counties combined.

State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon, Democratic incumbent, received 721,536 votes, including 303,830 Downstate and 417,706 in Cook County.

Creation of a Regional Transportation Authority carried 684,286 to 671,287 on the strength of a Cook County favorable vote of 625,424 to 423,827.

The transit proposal trailed 27,224 to 79,821 in DuPage County, 16,981 to 46,621 in Lake, 5,885 to 46,187 in Kane, 5,985 to 45,988 in Will and 2,777 to 27,533 in McHenry County.

The canvass was by the State Board of Elections, consisting of Michael E. Lavelle, chairman, Don W. Adams, vice-chairman, and William L. Harris and Franklin J. Lundberg Jr.

Rites today for father of GC man

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today at St. Patrick's Catholic Church, Tipton, for Ambrose Joseph Boyle, 82, of Waterloo, Ill., father of Donald Boyle of Granite City.

Mr. Boyle died Monday at St. Clement Hospital, Red Bud. Other survivors include two other sons; three daughters; two brothers and two sisters.

GC repeats transfer order

For the second time in the past week, Granite City Council members Monday night approved a motion to instruct City Treasurer Paul Rutledge to transfer $180,000 from the city's judgment and interest account to the general operating fund—an action which Rutledge refuses to take.

The action was necessary to permit hearing of a circuit court proceeding filed by the city against Rutledge in an effort to define the legality of making transfers from separate levy accounts to the general operating account.

The friendly suit was suggested by Rutledge two weeks ago because, he said, he believes it is illegal to use surplus funds in separate levy accounts to pay general operating expenses. A court ruling in such a proceeding would establish a legal basis by which such fund transfers could or could not be made.

The council approved a motion calling for the transfer during a special meeting April 9, but a question arose as to whether the action in that meeting was legal because it had not been included in the call for the special meeting. City finance officials decided to repeat the action in Monday's meeting to remove any doubt.

A motion by Alderman Gerald Farmley, chairman of the council's finance committee, to order the fund transfer by the city treasurer was approved 11 to 2 on a roll call vote, after Aldermen Clyde Boyd and Walter Noon protested the action was unnecessary because the city ends its present fiscal year on April 30 and will be operating after that time under a new budget arrangement.

The two aldermen cast the only negative votes against the motion.

The city has nearly exhausted its general operating accounts because of large bills for repair of broken sewer lines in the Nameoki area. Some aldermen have suggested "borrowing"

HURT IN ACCIDENT

Miss Nancy Rapoff, 18, of 2535 Edison Ave., was injured when her car struck the parked car of Ronnie Johnson, 2566 Edison Ave., at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday. She said she was adjusting the rear view mirror of her car and did not see the parked car. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for minor abrasions to her arms and shoulders and was released.

For 5.36 acres of right-of-way approved for 1.78 acres of slope easement, payment of $2,990 was approved and a payment of $16,560 was authorized for damage to land not taken, a parcel which will be divided by the road.

County acquires road easements

County Board members were told yesterday in meeting at Edwardsville that several parcels of land have been obtained for the proposed extension of Maryville Road to Route 162.

The board hired Henry Gabriel of Granite City, architect, to design the facility and to suggest a site or sites on which it could be constructed.

If the project is approved by a public building commission, it need not be taken before the voters at a referendum for approval.

Without a public building commission, voters have within 30 days of the date the county board approves a bond issue to file petitions requesting that a referendum be held.

Robert L. Ford Jr., board member from Wood River, said he estimated 10,000 signatures

Jail bond vote aired

Questions on whether or not the public will be given an opportunity to vote on a bond issue of about $3 million for constructing a new county jail were raised, but not resolved, at the Madison County Board meeting Wednesday.

The board hired Henry Gabriel of Granite City, architect, to design the facility and to suggest a site or sites on which it could be constructed.

If the project is approved by a public building commission, it need not be taken before the voters at a referendum for approval.

Without a public building commission, voters have within 30 days of the date the county board approves a bond issue to file petitions requesting that a referendum be held.

Robert L. Ford Jr., board member from Wood River, said he estimated 10,000 signatures would be needed on petitions to move the issue onto the November general election ballot. "We do not anticipate there will be a referendum," Ford said, to which Mrs. Bellis replied, "I do."

H. Jack Franden, board member from Alhambra, said he felt the people should have a right to vote on increasing their taxes for a new county jail and said he felt a public building commission was unnecessary.

He told Mrs. Bellis, "You're taking the right to vote away from your constituents."

Mrs. Bellis responded, "That's true, but we know better than they (the taxpayers) what the county needs."

The motion to hire Gabriel as architect was approved on a 23 to 2 vote.

The county was notified last month that, due to the substantial condition of the county jail, the board had to begin planning immediately for a new jail building, or the state Department of Corrections would condemn the present facility. If the present county jail is condemned, all prisoners here would be sent to the St. Clair County Jail and Madison County would be charged by St. Clair County for the jailing, services and food for each prisoner.

Hays Mallory, board member from Edwardsville, commented, "I object to being dictated to. I don't think someone in Springfield should come in here and tell us what to do."

The Department of Corrections also was criticized from the County Board floor for not offering assistance in the planning of a new jail or possible means of financing it.

Ford estimated the proposed jail could be constructed for less than $3 million, unless a downtown Edwardsville site is recommended, which could increase the cost due to the price of land.

He said if the bond issue was approved, with or without a referendum, the taxes would be increased $3 per year for a family with a house assessed at $10,000, and that family would pay about $60 in taxes for the jail over the 20-year life of the bond issue.

Veizer chosen for FBI course

Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer is among 30 chiefs of police from throughout the nation who have been selected to attend a Federal Bureau of Investigation Executive Development School at Quantico, Va., next week.

Chief Veizer will leave Granite City Sunday for Virginia for the course which begins Monday and continues through Friday, April 26.

Aspects of police management will be studied during the course, which is being funded by a federal grant.

Two charged in burglaries

Robert Miller, 17, of 14 Bradley Ave., and John E. Barge, 17, 4074 Beckenridge Lane, were charged with burglary by Pontoon Beach police Monday.

The mobile homes of John Gerardi, lot 302, and Gary Wood, lot 335, both at 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, were reported burglarized of items valued at $350 Monday afternoon.

Chief Rosewell Bennett Jr. arrested Miller in a freight car at 3:55 p.m. Monday.

Barge was taken to the Pontoon Beach police station by his mother at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. He was released at 10:50 a.m. Wednesday on $5,000 reconnaissance bond, charged with one count of burglary.

ESTATE AUCTION
Sunday, April 21—12:30 P.M. 413 Pontoon Road, Firemen's Hall, Pontoon Beach, Illinois. Having retired and sold his home, Mr. L. R. Williams of St. Louis will sell at public auction his personal estate. NOTE: Having been a long time collector of antiques, Mr. Williams' estate is one of the finest we have ever offered. Most furniture in particular is in near mint home-ready condition. Many items from basement, attic and garage for the do-it-yourselfers. Every cabinet, cupboard, drawer, stool and cranny was full and it all has to sell. Abbreviated listing includes: Walnut Victorian parlor set (7 pieces, including sofa, ornately carved, original upholstery); large crystal chandelier (heavy crystal, gilded, 12 "Candles"); highly carved pump organ (plays exceptionally fine); child's slant front secretary; burl walnut linen cupboard; walnut elague (rare hooded top, ornate cutout work, highly carved); two grandfather clock (both run and strike); dry sink; walnut hutch; kitchen hutch (two piece); French music cabinet; burl walnut bachelor's chest and dresser (both have marble top, brass casters, backslashes); round oak (48") claw and ball table; huge carved hallstand; pair French speller boxes - Greek runners; bedstead; old iron bedstead; high back; Roseville pottery, drop front ladies desk, walnut game table, marble top washstand, bookcase secretary, set 4 carved chairs, knockdown wardrobe, old oak, wood bed, four oriental lamps, shaving stand, delft dresser, scrolled iron hall tree, bisque figurines, marble top parlor table, primitive copper kettle, round oak table, brass oil lamp, spindle back carved and other rockers, old bowl and pitcher set, Larkins desk, china clock, game plates (nate) walnut gategate drop leaf table, copper umbrella stand, hall tree with mirror, pattern glass, pair tavern mirrors, pressed, pattern, old carnival, cranberry, opalescent, fro blue, crystal, china, all types of glassware. Old eye glasses, hand crocheted bedspread (mint), two fine frames and prints (4x3") both hung over mantles, other frames, old dolls, jewelry, vanity, washstand, tables, chairs, oriental lamps, two numerous to list. Years and years of collecting and accumulating must be liquidated in a single afternoon. All auction listings seem to be liquidated after awhile, but this sale is definitely outstanding in quality and quantity. All absolutely sold to highest bidder.

Chicago again heads for top of recording charts

Chicago, long regarded as one of the nation's top jazz-rock bands, has two distinctive trademarks: a good music and two disk albums. In fact, their debut album several years ago was a two-set goodie which is a rarity for any group just starting out. Now once again we find Chicago's latest release, "Seven" on Columbia Records, containing both of these trademarks.

The group's fans will be delighted by the LP, but they may be in for a little surprise because "Seven" is rather mellow compared to other Chicago efforts. Don't get me wrong, you'll still hear those jazz riffs slipping in and out, but the main line runs along the classic rock sounds.

The weight of the vocals lies on bassist Peter Cetera as he rums through such cuts as "Searchin' So Long," "Call on Me," and the fine "Wishing You Were Here" in which he is accompanied by the Beach Boys. Keyboard master Robert Lamm gets into the vocal act as do the Pointer Sisters on the outstanding "Skinny Boy."

With the thumping beat of Danny Seraphine's drums and the sliding licks of Terry Kath's guitar the brass is able to set down some mighty fine sounds on the various cuts. The brass is supplied by trumpeter Lee Loughnane, trombonist James Pankow and sax-titist Walt Parazaider. The toning down of Chicago's tempo hasn't affected the talents of their musicians and "Seven" is a sure bet to end up at the top of the charts.

Tucky Buzzard — where the name came from is anybody's guess — but there's one thing that's for sure and that's their music. It can be as mean and hungry as a starving buzzard or as soft as the air on which it flies. "Buzzard," on the Passport Label, is the group's second effort and again it's produced superbly by the Rolling Stones bassist Bill Wyman, who also displays some fine keyboard work for the group. The release of this LP, just as the Britishers hit the concert trail here along with Deep Purple, ought to bring them to the attention of many who aren't yet familiar with them. Highlights are the top-notch vocals of Jimmy Henderson along with the exceptional guitar work of Terry Taylor. Depth is added by Chris Johnson's steady pulsating drums, which lend a fine beat for Phil Talbot's rhythm guitar and Dave Brown's bass and acoustic guitar work.

Some of the outstanding rockers on the album include "Hanging on in There" and "Wine and Whimmin'." "Superboy Rock 'n' Roller" seems to take on the sound of the '60s while "Shy Boy" slides into a nice mellow mood. It's a fine LP all the way through and there's no doubt that Tucky Buzzard will soon leave its mark on the American shores.

"Boogie Down" comes our way from Eddie Kendricks on Tamla Records and is produced by Frank Wilson and Leonard Caston. The LP vibrantly projects some new aspects of listening pleasure as Eddie belts out No. 4 of his solo career, and it's a definite progression toward pleasing the boogieing public.

On this album, Kendricks takes on displaying a low and high manner throughout the entire 10 selections. With "The Thin Man," "Boogie Down" and "Hooked on Your Love" playing to the highs, Eddie then heads in a new direction of lowness with soft melodies such as "You are the Melody of My Life" and "Girl of My Dreams." In a continuing motion toward listening ecstasy he slides down a little bit lower with what looks like a future hit single in "Honey Brown." This by far Eddie's best effort to date as a solo artist.

The Delfonics latest release, "Alive and Kicking," on Philly Groove Records and produced by Watson, comes on in that familiar Philadelphia sound. It brings forth a fine high rhythmic tone combined with the appropriate arrangements of the Philadelphia Strings and Horns. In a mixture of quality and just good music, this groups versatility invades the ear of both the dancing and easy listening

State art grant to university

The art department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has received a grant from the Illinois Arts Council to bring printmaker David Driesbach to the campus April 22-24.

Driesbach's home and studio are located in DeKalb, where he is professor of art at Northern Illinois University. He has gallery affiliations from New York to the state of Washington. His works are in museums and in private collections in this country and in the Bibliotheque Nationale in Paris. Born in Wausau, Wis., he was one of Maurice Lasansky's earlier students in printmaking at the University of Iowa, where Driesbach received his master of fine arts degree in 1961. More recently he has studied under Stanley William Hayter at the Atelier 17 in Paris.

According to Robert Malone, associate professor of printmaking at SIUE who arranged crowds. With soulful, fast-moving tunes like "I Told You So" and "Can't Go On Living," the mind and the feet are soon in motion. But that's not all this group is capable of because they'll sit you down to a smoother level with "First Thing on My Mind" and keep your ear truly relaxed with "Lying to Myself."

During his visit he also will give a demonstration on how one etched plate can be printed in a variety of ways and will go through a portfolio of his prints, accompanied by an explanation of what went into their making.

ARREST JUVENILES

Two 16-year-old Granite City boys were arrested by Norfolk & Western Railroad security guards at 26th Street and the railroad tracks this week and were referred to juvenile authorities. One boy was found inside an automobile on the second tier of a railroad car with the auto's engine running. The second boy was seen attempting to pry open the door of another auto on the train.

Auto racing Explorers to build "Explorer II"

A new Explorer Post sponsored by the local W. T. Grant Store will specialize in auto racing and plans to build its own racing machine.

As a fund-raising project, the Explorers have formed their own racing company and are selling "stock certificates" for $1, similar to that issued by Junior Achievement companies.

Larry Talbert, automotive technology instructor at Granite City High School North is serving as the group's advisor. Talbert has had six years professional racing experience and will drive "Explorer II" when it is finished.

Max Boyd, head of the automotive department at Granite City, is the institutional representative.

The young men meet on the first and third Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Grant store.

Members of the post are Rory Majkar, Michael Margrave, David Nichols, Ben Pileic, Michael Watkins Post 2 president, Charles Constant, Clinton Barnhart, Mike Pagano, Chris Smith and Carl Bradford. The program of Exploring provides youth between the ages of 14 and 21 with self-motivated and self-conducted activities which include social, vocational, outdoor, citizenship, personal fitness and service experiences that are both flexible and relevant to the young persons immediate interests.

Detailed information on any phase of the Explorer Program may be obtained at the local Boy Scout Service Center, 1338a Nledringhaus Ave., phone 876-0885.

Coast Guardsman takes training

Coast Guard Storekeeper First Class Garry G. Callender, whose wife Lynda is the daughter of Joseph A. Wallace, 3117 Myrtle Ave., participated in flood relief training at the Coast Guard Disaster Control Group at St. Louis.

During the spring flood of 1973, men from Coast Guard ships and stations in the St. Louis area spent more than 1,500 man-days assisting flood victims. Training is conducted regularly to prepare the Coast Guardsmen for the eventuality of future rescue operations.

A former student of Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill., he joined the Coast Guard in June 1970.

State ready to check pollution complaints

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is encouraging citizens to report specific pollution problems to its offices.

Richard H. Briceland, director of the Illinois EPA, says citizen assistance in locating and reporting pollution problems can aid Illinois EPA efforts to control harmful pollution. He continued:

"We have a field staff which looks for pollution, but it obviously can't be everywhere in the state all the time."

"If persons who notice air, water, noise or land pollution will tell us about it, we at the Illinois EPA will be able to begin working to control that pollution.

"Controlling pollution is important to us all, wherever we live. Air pollution can cause emphysema and lung diseases, and polluted water can spread diseases such as typhoid, cholera and dysentery."

"A cleaner, less polluted Illinois can mean a healthier Illinois, so it is to everyone's advantage to work together to control pollution."

Briceland said the field staff will investigate alleged pollution and report back to the persons who notified the EPA. Illinois EPA regional offices where pollution can be reported include Collinsville, 117 W. Main St., telephone 345-6220.

Increase spending plans for control of pollution

A survey released in mid-April reveals that during the past year steel companies of the United States nearly doubled their planned short-term spending for environmental quality control facilities.

The report, issued by the American Iron and Steel Institute, covers 1974, producing about 98 per cent of the nation's steel.

It shows that at the beginning of this year, the nation's steelmakers had budgeted $643,203,000 for air and water pollution control equipment scheduled to go into operation in 1974 and later years—$481,710,000 for air, and $161,493,000 for water.

This is nearly twice as much as the $335,988,000 similarly budgeted at the beginning of 1973. However, the $643,203,000 does not include additional billions of dollars which may have to be committed to meet current and prospective regulations.

To date, steel companies have spent or committed over $2.1 billion to the installation of environmental protection facilities. The figure includes $1,275,840,000 for air pollution abatement units and $852,020,000 for water purification units.

During 1973, steel companies placed in operation $100,110,000 worth of air and water quality installations. This is down from the $201,778,000 in such facilities completed during 1972. As is apparent from the budgeted figures, there has been no slowing down of the industry's commitment, an AISI spokesman said.

The decline was in large part to long delays in delivery of pollution control equipment.

Also, conflicts in local, state and national standards, delays in formulation of federal pollution guidelines, and litigation created uncertainties and tended to inhibit pollution control planning, it was asserted.

Industry experts estimate the annual cost of operating and maintaining pollution control facilities to be 12 per cent of their original installation cost, not including fixed costs such as depreciation, taxes and interest.

Anti-pollution operating and maintenance costs are approaching $200 million a year for steel companies.

MFT funds allotted

Illinois municipalities have been allocated $6,714,057 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during March, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population. Allotments to municipalities in this area included $26,324 to Granite City, $4,837 to Madison and $3,281 to Venice.

The DOT also announced allocation of $2,088,143 to Illinois townships and road districts, including a total of $25,566 to those in Madison County. The allocation to Madison County for its unincorporated areas amounted to $97,074.

Wiemers completes workshop session

George Wiemers, Venice High School, has completed the third session of the annual Winter and Emergency Driving Workshops at Stevens Point, Wis.

Wiemers is a driver education instructor at Venice High. Sponsors by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, the workshops are divided into four separate two-day sessions, each accommodating 16 selected driver educators. The 60 educators in the four sessions represent 23 states and one Canadian province.

The workshops consist of classroom instruction in the theory of vehicle control and performance along with actual driving experience under controlled emergency driving conditions. On dry pavement courses, high-speed handling maneuvers include braking, evasive action and blowout control.

RECOVER STOLEN CAR

The auto of Bill Hodge, 1532 Clark Ave., reported stolen from the 1700 block of Venice Avenue this week, was recovered later by a Granite City policeman who saw two men or boys run from the vehicle in an alley between Spring and Bremen avenues.

Revenue sharing funds computed

Treasury Department computations for the seventh payment under the federal revenue sharing program for the third quarter (Jan. 1 to March 31) of Entitlement Period Four were announced this week by Cong. Melvin Price of this 23rd district.

The seventh payment will provide $1,021,803 for eligible agencies in Madison County. A breakdown of allotments includes:

Granite City, $121,166; Madison, $24,047; Venice, $31,840; Pontoon Beach Village, $3,977; Chouteau Township, $11,974; Granite City Township, $38,245; Nameoki Township, $13,187 and Venice Township, $16,711.

The Madison County government received $219,410.

Seeks cut in tax withholding

After reviewing statistics which show an increase in unemployment in St. Clair and Madison counties, Congressman Melvin Price (Dem., 22nd Ill.) has called for prompt Congressional action on a cut in personal income taxes. Cong. Price is co-sponsor of legislation which would reduce the rates at which federal income tax is withheld, thus increasing take-home pay. "This bill would result in more income in 1974," he said, "but a cut in the amount of the tax itself should be enacted to pay along the effect."

"I am especially disturbed over the unemployment rate in St. Clair and Madison counties," he said. "In February over 13,000 people were out of work, and that's a 7.4 per cent unemployment rate. This is a slight improvement over January, but if you look at last November's figures, the rate was at 5.5 per cent."

The Congressman said a tax cut would create increased buying power, increased demand, and a consequent build-up in employment to meet the demand.

"The economy has been limping along for too long," he said. "Something must be done, and quickly. I believe a tax cut is an important step."

"The average citizen is experiencing a genuine strain. I receive letters every day from people who are paying increased costs for housing, fuel, food, and almost every consumer item."

"It has reached the point where most Americans spend close to their entire incomes on necessities. There is nothing left for savings or even small luxuries. This is a very uncomfortable way to live, and the tax cut would help bring it to an end."

In response to Cong. Price's request, the Federal Insurance Administrator has clarified his agency's policy regarding National Flood Insurance coverage of damages caused by seepage and rising water tables.

The administrator said that for such damage to be covered, it must be proximately caused by and be a part of a natural condition of surface flooding in the area where the seepage damage or high water table occurs.

Seepage and high water table damage directly related to rising waters or the overflow of natural bodies of water is similarly covered. In such a case it must be shown that the loss was proximately caused by rising water, that is, at or above flood stage.

Price expressed the belief that this interpretation may result in coverage of certain damage in East St. Louis which was caused by seepage and high water tables. He noted that this kind of problem resulted in most of last year's flood damage in the city. Cong. Price has brought the administrator's opinion to the attention of the State Farm Insurance Co. in Bloomington, and suggests that persons who may have claims under the National Flood Insurance Program should contact State Farm or their insurance company.

On Wednesday, Cong. Price spoke in favor of an amendment to provide an additional $150 million for public service employment under a supplemental appropriation bill.

"Our public service employment programs have been of real value in combating the severe unemployment in areas such as my congressional district," he said. "The $350 million provided in the committee bill would only be sufficient for 85,000 jobs, yet last October 102,000 public service jobs were being funded. We should maintain adequate funding for this necessary program, for unemployment is still rising and we must maintain our efforts to slow this trend."

"Under the committee bill the state of Illinois will receive $14,801,000. The proposed amendment would raise this sum to $21,701,000 and permit more jobs to exist under the program."

Cong. Price has announced that the Economic Development Administration has approved a $128,000 grant to help create immediate construction jobs in St. Clair County.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Apr. 18, 1974 Page 35

The grant will help fund development of a community recreation park in Centerville, including construction of an access road, a parking area and play areas.

EDA approved the grant under provisions of the Public Works and Economic Development Act, which authorizes funds for construction of useful public facilities in areas of high unemployment.

Development of the park is expected to get under way within 90 days and to be completed within a year.

Treatment creates a new problem—sludge

Increasingly, towns throughout Illinois are improving their sewage operations. But in doing so, they are finding a related pollution problem—disposing of the sludge that is formed at the sewage treatment plants.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency wants to help those communities find economical and effective methods of disposing of that sewage sludge, according to Richard H. Briceland, EPA director.

"The sludge is simply the solid waste matter that settles out of the sewage in the wastewater treatment process," Briceland said. "Some communities have been burning the sludge. But now, with the projected shortage of low-cost fuels to burn the material, many communities are looking for other, more economical ways to dispose of it," Briceland said.

The sludge also is being buried in sanitary landfills by some communities, but space in such landfills is rapidly becoming more difficult to obtain.

He continued: "We are forming a task force within the Illinois EPA to study different methods of using the sludge."

"The sludge task force, which includes members of the Illinois EPA staff and representatives of communities and of agricultural groups, is expected to make specific recommendations on how the sludge can best be utilized."

"The sewage sludge is rich in nutrients, and now, when our Illinois farmers are finding commercial fertilizers more difficult and more expensive to obtain, we hope farmers will take an objective look at the possibility of using some sludge as fertilizer."

He said the sludge could be spread on the ground, or knifed under the ground, depending on the amount applied.

Similar techniques for disposing of the sewage sludge are being used throughout Europe, he said.

Briceland said officials of the Illinois Agricultural Association and of the Illinois Livestock Feeders' Association have indicated an interest in studying possible agricultural use of the sludge.

"The task force will be investigating ways to close the circle of food production on the farm, the consumption of that food by people, and the return of waste material to the land as a fertilizer," he said.

The first meeting of the task force was held in Springfield in mid-April. Members of the Illinois EPA advisory committee on sludge and wastewater utilization on agriculture land include, from Alton: Morris E. Nelson, representing the Illinois Agricultural Association.

Set up criteria for new degree

Criteria for evaluation of a new bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were established during the weekend by the SIU Board of Trustees.

The new degree was authorized in March, subject to the approval of the Illinois Board of Higher Education. At that time Trustee William Allen of Bloomington asked the administration to agree to a program evaluation at some future date so that it could be cancelled if it does not develop as anticipated. The trustees agreed to the new degree with that stipulation.

Criteria adopted by the board would require that 50 majors be enrolled in the industrial engineering degree program and that ten students be graduated each year at the end of the sixth year of operation.

Trustees indicated they believed the Board of Higher Education would be more likely to approve the new degree if some form of future evaluation was included in the proposal.

City investments to earn $35,080

Interest revenue of $35,080 will be earned by Granite City on 15 separate investments of city funds made by the office of City Treasurer Paul Rutledge so far this month.

Rutledge reported that the largest investment was $90,000 in construction funds for the city's secondary sewage treatment plant received last week as the first allocation under a federal grant of more than $1 million.

The treatment plant construction funds were placed on deposit in three-month time certificates at 8 per cent interest and upon maturity will have earned the city $19,000 in interest, Rutledge reported.

"The first half of April was the best month on record in the city's history so far as fund investments are concerned," Rutledge said.

He said a balance of $9,193 in the combined Nameoki Area Sewer Fund was invested on a 28-month retirement schedule at 6 per cent, earning $1,287 interest over the two-year period.

General fund surpluses in separate levy accounts totaling $200,000, was invested for one month at 5 per cent to earn $833 interest, Rutledge said. These surpluses are in accounts not usable for city operating expenses.

An investment of $769,627 in treatment plant construction funds at 8 per cent for two months will earn interest of $10,261, and an investment of $325,000, also in treatment plant construction funds, at 8 per cent for one month, will earn another $2,166 interest, the treasurer reported.

Other investments made by the treasurer's office during the first half of the month included: Particular Area No. 3 sewer funds, $4,132 invested at 5 per cent for five months to earn $86; Particular Area No. 3 sewer funds, $1,964 at 5 1/2 per cent for 11 months, to earn $96; Primary Sewage Treatment plant funds, $25,000 at 5 per cent for two months to earn $208; $25,000 at 5 1/2 per cent for three months to earn $343 and $25,000 at 5 1/2 per cent for four months to earn $458. Sewer Extension fund, $5,005 at 5 1/2 per cent for three months to earn $81; Secondary treatment plant funds, $2,776 at 5 per cent for two months to earn $221; Secondary plant reserve funds, $4,629 at 5 per cent for two months to earn $38, and motor fuel tax funds, $50,000 at 5 per cent for one month to earn $208.

COUCH BURNS

Boards to review education issues

Area school board members and administrators will gather at the W. J. Zahner Elementary School, Waterloo, Tuesday, April 23, to take part in a semi-annual dinner meeting of the Southwestern Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards.

George E. Moore Sr. of the Granite City Board of Education is chairman of the division and will preside at the dinner.

The evening meeting consists of a dinner, keynote address and six concurrent panel presentations. Keynote speaker is Dr. J. L. Buford, educational consultant and lecturer and former superintendent of schools at Mt. Vernon. The six panel topics are: career education, ethical guides for professional conduct, student opinions about the school, the principalship, school personnel employment guidelines and school construction.

Also included on the program will be a report by an IASB representative on statewide issues confronting education.

The IASB is a voluntary service organization of 1,000 Illinois school boards, with headquarters in Springfield. The Southwestern Division includes the counties of Randolph, Monroe, Madison and St. Clair.

New Y director on job

The appointment of a new executive director of the Tri-City Area YMCA, Harold R. Rudolph, was announced this week by Fred Cunningham, chairman of the board of directors, as Rudolph assumed his duties on Monday.

Rudolph has considerable experience in the YMCA and most recently was branch executive of the Madison East YMCA in Madison, Wis., Cunningham said.

He served five years as executive director of the Y in Bloomington, Ind. Prior to 1967 he served on the staff of the YMCA for nine years as a consultant to Y's in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and North and South Dakota. He also was the assistant manager of the YMCA

Hotel in Chicago for four years. His first position was program director in a branch of the Cincinnati, Ohio, Y.

Rudolph's family, Judith, his wife, and three children, Chris, Lisa, and Kurt, will move to Granite City in June when school is out.

With a B.S. degree in physical education and business administration from Jamestown College in Jamestown, N.D., and a B.D. degree from the University of Chicago Divinity School, Rudolph has a broad educational base for his position in the YMCA, Cunningham noted.

International travel to South America to visit YMCA's has brought Rudolph into contact with the world-wide fellowship of the Y. He led a workcamp of 22 college students to South America in 1962, conducting a work camp in Lima, Peru, and visiting YMCA's in Ecuador, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, and Venezuela.

While completing his secondary degree, he took a one year internship under the sponsorship of the Danforth Foundation to serve the Y at Louisiana State University during the height of the racial turmoil in 1956-57.

Worker files injury suit

Owens Illinois Glass Co., Ohio Blow Pipe Construction Co. and John W. Burns have been named defendants in a suit filed by Ellsworth Best in Madison County Circuit Court.

Best alleges that on April 18, 1972, Owens Illinois contracted with Ohio Blow Pipe to construct an addition to an Alton plant. Best says he was a pipefitter and welder for Alton Plumbing and Heating Co. on the construction site when a large wooden ladder fell on him, injuring his head and back. He seeks $200,000 from Owens Illinois.

A second count seeks $200,000 from Ohio Blow Pipe and count three seeks $200,000 from Burns, who was employed by Owens Illinois to inspect the construction site.

MARKET BURGLARIZED

Afraid You're Going Deaf?

Chicago, Ill.—A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operated model of the smallest Beltone aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

This is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. It's yours to keep, free. The actual aid weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head.

These models are free, so write for yours now. Thousands have already been mailed so write today to Dept. 906, Beltone Electronics Corp., 4201 W. Victoria St., Chicago, Ill., 60646. Advertisement

College level tests offered

College Level Examination Program (CLEP) tests will be given at Scott Air Force Base Saturday, June 28, and again Saturday, Oct. 5, 1974, according to Brooks Holder, assistant dean of the General Studies Division at SIUE.

The CLEP tests are given at regular intervals on the SIUE campus, but the university also administers the tests at Scott Air Force Base as a community service to people living in that area.

CLEP tests were originally designed to serve post-secondary students who gained certain knowledge outside formal educational channels, but many students enrolled in colleges have also taken advantage of CLEP.

The testing program offers five general examinations, including English, composition, mathematics, natural sciences, social sciences and humanities. Thirty-four college-level subject examinations also are offered.

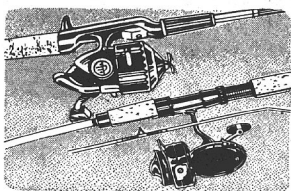

The fee for taking one general examination or any subject examination is $15. For two or more general examinations taken on one day, the total fee is $30.

Candidates for CLEP tests must register in advance. Materials for the tests are available from the general studies counselor in the Base Education Office at Scott Air Force Base, Bldg. 1322.

Information on the testing is also available from the CLEP administrator, Box 44, Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville, Ill., 62025, telephone 682-3922.

It's a woman's world—at SIUE

A special week of programs for women entitled "It's a Woman's World, Too," will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville April 22-26, sponsored by the University Center.

Highlights of the week will be a speech by Shana Alexander, columnist for Newsweek Magazine (April 24, 8 p.m.), and a lecture by Cicely Tyson, Academy Award nominee for best actress for her role in "Sounder" (April 23, 8 p.m.). Both of the lectures will be in the Meridian Ballroom of the Center.

Workshops and films on varied topics also will be included in the week's activities.

Topics will include "Values Clarification in Marriage and Divorce," "Facts Concerning the Equal Rights Amendment," "Black Women in America and on Film," "Women in Journalism" and a presentation by the St. Louis Rape Crisis Center.

Each day of the week will be devoted to a particular subject. Monday's topic will be "Legal Rights of Women"; Tuesday—"Changing Role of Women in Society"; Wednesday—"Women in the Arts"; Thursday—"Societal Expectations of Women"; Friday—"Women and Careers."

A former national secretary of the Young Socialist Alliance,

Cindy Jaquith, will be on campus Tuesday (April 23) to speak at 1:30 p.m. in the Goshen Lounge on the topic "Women in History: Suffrage Movement to the Present."

On Thursday (April 25) at 1:30 p.m., Evelyn Reed, anthropologist, will speak in the Goshen Lounge on the topic "Is Biology a Woman's Destiny?" Miss Reed was the keynote speaker at the Southern Female Rights Union Conference in Mississippi in 1970, and is the author of "Problems of Women's Liberation" and "An Answer to the Naked Ape."

Kelley-Stogsdill betrothal

Plans for a May wedding was disclosed with the engagement announcement of Miss Jacqueline A. Stogsdill and Melvin E. Kelley by the bride-to-be's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Stogsdill, 2517 Madison Ave.

REMEMBER 1910?—Bringing back memories with a 1910 "tail" dress is Debbie Wilde of Columbia, who modeled at the Yesteryear Fashion Show at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Senior Citizens Fair. The dress featured a jacket and short trail on the back of the skirt.

THE ROARING TWENTIES—Double-breasted, pin-stripe suits and popular hat and cap styles from the 1920's and 1930's are modeled by (from the left) Jim Davis of Alton, Gary Smiley of Oak Lawn, and Will Shaw of Creal Springs, all students at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The models participated in a Yesteryear Fashion Show which highlighted a Senior Citizens Fair at SIUE. More than 1,000 persons age 65 and older attended the event, sponsored by the Community Involvement Project at SIUE and the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

THE ZOOTO FORTIES—Senior citizens who attended the Yesteryear Fashion Show at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were reminded of the 1940's when Connie Murray of Granite City and Whit Shaw of Belleville appeared on the University Center stage. Reichert is modeling a "zoot" suit, distinguished by long, curved lapels. The show was a feature of the Senior Citizens Fair, sponsored by the Community Involvement Project at SIUE and the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission.

OUT FOR A SWIM?—Modeling an 1890 women's bathing suit is Laura Compton of Belleville, at the Senior Citizens Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

THE GAY NINETIES—Theresa Pashea of Granite City modeling an 1890 style silk gown with "bustle" at the Senior Citizens Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

A 'RUSTLE' DRESS, a two-piece satin from the 1920 era, was a popular number in the Yesteryear Fashion Show at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Senior Citizens Fair. The model is Marjane Siedle of Waterloo.

PLASITEX ROOFING WITH REPAIRS
Colored Elastomeric Plastitex fills small cracks and nail holes, adheres tightly to the roof... binds roofing granules, ties down shingles and, at the same time, gives a beautiful new look.
INSULATES
The Plastitex coating forms a reflective Elastomeric shield over the entire roof. This helps keep interiors cooler in summer, warmer in winter... lessens air conditioning and heating costs. Remains pliable.
PRESERVES
Moisture doesn't get through, so there's no deterioration of the roofing material. The coating resists the harmful effects of smoke, fumes, acid air, sunlight and general weathering. Retreated roofs gain additional years of life with less maintenance.
SAVES
One coat of Colored Plastitex Elastomeric can save the owner many dollars. It can also eliminate the cost of repair and replacement of building materials, yet extend the useful life of all types of structures.
DECORATES
Attractive colored Liquid Plastitex finish gives uniform appearance to old, stained surfaces... and adds beauty and new life to dull, weathered roofs.

Miss Joan Minnick wed at Concordia Lutheran

Concordia Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding on April 6 of Miss Joan Elizabeth Minnick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Minnick, 3512 Johnson Road, and Max Gilbert Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mitchell, 212 Monroe St., Lawrenceville, Ill.

Pink and orchid carnation bouquets adorned the altar and white satin bows were affixed to the family pews providing the setting for the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Arvin Twietmeyer.

Nuptial selections were furnished by Mrs. June Barton, at the organ, and Mrs. Laura Fehche, soloist.

A long white gown of sate peau fashioned in an Empire silhouette and lavishly re-embroidered with Alencon lace motifs was worn by the bride.

The lace appliques, etched with pearls and bugle beads, formed the high neckline and enhanced the fitted bodice and long tapered sleeves.

Large beaded motifs were placed at random on the semi-straight skirt. A deep, scalloped lace border encircled the hem and the full sweep detachable train.

She wore a flat lace headpiece to secure her shoulder length veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations and stephanotis, centered with a lavender orchid.

Miss Catherine Farrington, the maid of honor, and Miss Nancy Minnick, a cousin of the bride, bridesmaids, were dressed alike in pink and orchid.

Their skirts were in print contrasting with solid color bodices, featuring a ruffled neckline and velvet buttons accented. The long sleeves terminated in a ruffled cuff. Each attendant wore a large picture hat trimmed with the colored streamers.

Miss Farrington held a bouquet of pink carnations and baby breath and Miss Minnick carried an arrangement of orchid carnations.

Robert Behrens attended the groom as best man. Joseph Didden, Michael Minnick, a brother of the bride, and Leo Six, the bride's uncle, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Anita Landman registered the guests at a reception at Holy Trinity Hall, Madison, after the church ceremony.

Both mothers were attired in long chiffon gowns. Mrs. Minnick chose a blue dress designed with crystal pleating at the neckline and on the long sleeves. A rhinestone bow pin defined the waistline.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Mitchell, appeared in grey dress and jacket ensemble, accented with rhinestones.

After a wedding trip to French Lick, Ind., the newly married couple is now residing at the Gaslight Walk Apartments.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the bride is employed at Northwestern Bank, St. Louis, as an accounting supervisor.

Mr. Mitchell was graduated from the University of Illinois at Champaign. He is employed as an insurance supervisor at Transit Casualty Co., St. Louis.

Surprise dinner fetes Asadorians

A surprise dinner party was given during the weekend for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Z. (Gladys) Asadorian in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosting the event at Mr. Yac's Restaurant in St. Louis were the honorees' children, Miss Nancy Asadorian and Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Pam) Asadorian.

Mr. and Mrs. Asadorian were married on April 16, 1949 at the First United Presbyterian Church by the late Rev. A. Ralph Lynn.

Guests attending the dinner were Mrs. Perooz Asadorian, Miss Roxy Asadorian, Mr. and Mrs. Higus Asadorian and children, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Bass, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Asadorian and family and Larry Galvisky.

MEIR VISIT

On Sept. 20, 1970, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir concluded a five-day visit to the United States.

Medical record business here

Granite City is to become the home May 8 of an international corporation, International Record Co., a group formed to sell emergency medical records for persons to carry with them. Robert Puschnan and Clarence Bosworth, both of Granite City, originators of the idea, explained their firm will sell a small 12-page health and identification record book and windshield sticker to persons for $1.98 per set.

The book is filled in by the person who will carry it and contains identification, a history of the person's illnesses and medication, allergies, immunizations, surgeries and insurance information. A bright orange on white sticker for automobile or home display informs emergency workers that an injured person carries medical records with him. The booklet is small enough to fit inside a wallet. Bosworth and Puschnan will operate the business through Granite City Post Office Box 325 and hope for distribution eventually by major pharmaceutical suppliers.

Homemakers, St. Peter's women combine efforts to teach sewing

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
Getting enough students proved easy, but finding an adequate number of sewing machines was a different matter when a very special sewing class began a few weeks ago at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

The experimental series, an outgrowth of St. Peter's Church Outreach Program, was highly successful and welded women of different backgrounds and talents into a single productive unit.

Instructors for the sewing program were provided by the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association (HEA) of which Mrs. Robert (Ruth) Brave of Granite City is president.

The seven-week course came into being when Mrs. Brave overheard Mrs. Helene Kettelhut comment, "How can we teach sewing when we have only one machine?"

Mrs. Kettelhut, whose husband, the Rev. Robert Kettelhut, is pastor of St. Peter's, noted that the congregation is vitally interested in utilizing its facilities to help others in the community in any manner they can.

A beginners' sewing class to give the homemaker an opportunity to learn to outfit her family herself and thereby stretch the family income seemed like a very good idea, the organizers said.

Initially, the class was restricted to 15 pupils, but quickly added two more homemakers wanting sewing instruction and along the way collected five more women.

The final enrollment was 22 women, all eager to learn seamstresses, or at least learn the basic fundamentals of sewing.

The project was a "natural" for the Homemakers Extension group's involvement.

As Mrs. Brave explained the topic stressed at the closing session of the National Extension Homemakers Conference in East Lansing, Mich., last August, was "Each One, Teach One."

The idea was combined with the Illinois Homemakers Extension Federation's 1974 theme—"Education Is Forever"—to produce a mixture of educational and beneficial programs for area homemakers, Mrs. Brave pointed out.

"Our programs are varied, interesting and informative," the county officer said.

"We have lessons each month to keep the homemaker informed, not only about her home, but geared to such things as the metric system, buying men's ready-to-wear garments, coping with stress, replacing worn-out electrical cords, repairing leaky gutters and basic auto care to name a few."

"And, we believe in using our knowledge to teach others. This is a satisfying and rewarding experience," Mrs. Brave added.

The Homemaker's group was more than eager to assist with St. Peter's proposed sewing class, with the result 22 HEA members eventually became involved as instructors.

Several, who signed to help at one session only, returned to assist the beginning sewers at later classes, Mrs. Brave commented. "They just got so enthused and had to come back each week to see how their pupils were progressing," she said.

Mrs. Kermit (Ruth) Ratliff of Edwardsville, voluntary action chairman of the HEA Board, was on a six-month leave at the time the class was proposed. To expedite the program, Mrs. Brave began organizing the HEA's part until the chairman's return prior to actual sessions getting under way.

The entire project was a joint effort by the women of St. Peter's Church and the county Homemakers organization, she stressed.

Mrs. Dorothy Lueders of St. Peter's, who supervised enrollment, also served as volunteer baby sitter.

A retired school teacher, Mrs. Lueders reported enjoying the experiences with her young charges. "She didn't draw the easiest assignment and I think she missed a lot of fun and fellowship," Mrs. Brave commented.

Mrs. William (Dorothy) Miller accepted responsibility for making coffee and doubled as cleanup captain. At one session, a student supplied donuts for the class, but the hands were so busy no one could find the time to eat them, she said.

At the initial session, Mrs. Ratliff discussed fabrics, sewing terms and suggested items the students would need, such as tracing paper and a wheel. Each person was measured, her size was determined and the pattern selected.

Participants were asked to use a double knit fabric, avoiding plaids and one-way designs for their first garment. The Fabric Store gave each student a ten per cent discount on all purchases, Mrs. Brave said.

While one student was selecting her fabric at the store, a customer standing nearby, who had moved into the community from Texas only days before, heard about the class and promptly enrolled at the second session, the county HEA officer said.

Another later starter was accepted upon the suggestion of the HEA health chairman. "We got both caught up with the other students," Mrs. Brave said.

How to lay out a pattern and cut material, insert a dart and sew a French seam and proper placement of an "invisible" zipper, together with the important fitting procedure and, of course, operating a sewing machine all were part of the initial instruction. From then on, each woman worked at her own speed with help always at hand from one of the HEA instructors.

Providing enough portable sewing machines was achieved with the assistance of the women of St. Peter's Church. Other volunteers begged and borrowed some and several students had their own.

The Nechli Sewing Center loaned one of its best models to Mrs. Ratliff until it was sold. The firm then came up with a replacement model, Mrs. Brave reported.

Accomplishments of the program were many, Mrs. Brave noted. Gaining knowledge and skill on one hand and fun and fellowship on the other.

To make a well-fitted and smartly styled dress oneself is a splendid achievement and gives a feeling of deep satisfaction, she said.

When Mrs. Jeannine Scarborough first came to class she said her husband, Jack, had given her a sewing machine for Christmas. She admitted shyly that her lack of sewing ability resulted in using pink thread to repair her son's trousers, because that was the color thread already in the machine when it was delivered.

At the end of the fourth session, Mrs. Brave reported, the beginning student had created a double knit dress which fitted beautifully. "And, it wasn't pink," she added.

In addition, between classes at home, Jeannine also made a second dress using the methods she learned at the weekly sessions, Mrs. Brave reported.

As a grand finale, the students staged a fashion show and tea at St. Peter's Church, modeling their own garments to the applause of their volunteer instructors and guests.

Mrs. Brave said the Madison County Homemakers Extension Association has a total membership of 1,175 women in 32 units, including three in Granite City—Trio Unit, which meets the first Tuesday of each month; Isabel Beaver Unit, convening on the third Thursday of each month; and the Granite City Unit, whose monthly meetings take place each first Wednesday.

Membership in the HEA is open to all, the county president said. Dues are $5 a year and include a printed lesson sheet and a newsletter each month.

Gail Stagner becomes Mrs. Norman C. Fiess

Plateau baskets holding arrangements of yellow and white spring flowers and burning candles in candelabra festooned with greenery provided the setting at the First Baptist Church in Madison for the wedding on April 6 of Miss Gail Ellen Stagner and Norman C. Fiess.

Soloist Gene Hargrave sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Because," accompanied at the organ by Delores Pinkley.

Officiating at the 5:30 evening ceremony was the Rev. Paul J. David.

The bride, who resides at 5400 Carriage Way Rolling Meadows, Ill., is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Stagner, 1520 Beckwith Ave., Madison.

Mr. Fiess of Seattle, Wash., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fiess of Wheaton, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Stagner chose a Victorian style bridal gown. A high stand-up lace collar was featured on the fitted bodice, accented with lace, tucks and covered buttons.

The long sleeves had lace inserts and the cuffs were edged in a lace ruffle. A floor length skirt of sheer nylon over taffeta and not full gently from the Empire waistline.

She wore a chapel length veil trimmed with lace and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, yellow tea roses and baby breath.

Matron of honor Mrs. Beverly Brindley of San Carlos, Calif., and bridesmaids, Miss Monica Ney of Chicago and Miss Peggy Stagner of Madison, a sister of the bride, wore identical yellow plaid full length dresses.

Their gowns were designed with a tiny ruffle at the neckline and gathered flounces at the hem. Short jackets with long tapered sleeves complemented their attire and each attendant wore a yellow picture hat and held a bouquet of yellow daisies.

The groom, Barry Constantine of Chicago, as his best man, Tim Hoffman of Chicago and Terry Fiess of Los Angeles, a brother of the groom, served as groomsmen and ushers.

Approximately 200 guests attended a reception given after the ceremony at the Croatian Hall.

PEGGY SMOLICH HOSTS GARDEN CLUB MEETING

Mrs. C. E. Eads gave a demonstration on the proper way to start plants at a meeting of the Fair Oaks Garden Club in the home of Peggy Smolich, 3706 Fair Oaks Drive.

Two new members were enrolled by the president, Terri Kaye Thies. They are Doug Williamsmeyer and Cheryl Williams.

Announcement was made of a plant sale to be conducted this month by the Garden Study Club. In lieu of the May meeting, members of the host club will tour Shaw's Garden in St. Louis.

Refreshments were served to 11 members and four sponsors.

Linda Sue Harrison and John W. Hoffman are wed

The wedding of Miss Linda Sue Harrison and John W. Hoffman was solemnized at 6 p.m. March 29 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church, 2600 Washington Ave.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Daniel Flynn. Mrs. Margaret Crawshaw presided at the organ, playing "Love Story," "We've Only Just Begun," "More" and "The Wedding March."

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Merz, 617 Fleming Place. The groom is a son of Mrs. Helen Hoffman, 1332 Granite Ave., and John Hoffman of Austin, Minn.

For her wedding, the former Miss Harrison chose a full length gown of Chantilly lace, designed with an Empire bodice featuring a high neckline and long fitted sleeves.

A white satin ribbon encircled the high rise waist and accented the slightly gathered skirt, terminating at the hem with a scalloped flounce.

She wore a mantilla veil edged with matching lace and she held a nosegay of white daisies, stalk and white carnations festooned with white satin ribbons.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Beth Gaudreault, and bridesmaids, Misses Karen Stenmer and Kym Thompson, were gowned alike in green voile dresses. A multi-colored floral bib, traced with white lace, accented the bodices made with long full sleeves.

They wore white wide brimmed hats and each carried a small nosegay of variegated spring flowers.

The groom chose Frank Jeruigan as his best man. David and Terry Orsborn served as groomsmen and Mike Hoffman and Jeff Merz, brothers of the bride and groom, seated the guests.

Glen George, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer and escorted the flower girls, Dianna Merz, a sister of the bride, and Lisa George, a niece of the groom.

The little girls wore long yellow frocks enhanced with white lace trim at the neckline and on the sleeves. They wore white bonnets and carried baskets of flower petals.

Mrs. Merz, mother of the bride, selected a green double knit gown in an Empire style. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hoffman, was attired in a rose chiffon dress created with long, puff sleeves. Each wore accessories to match her dress.

A reception was held at the VFW Hall following the early evening service.

The newly married couple is residing in Granite City. Mr. Hoffman is employed at Granite City Steel Co.

Recital Sunday at 1st Baptist

Mrs. Jewel Everett will present a piano and organ recital at 2 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue. The public is invited to attend.

The concert finale will be the First Movement from the "Concerto in B Minor" by Tschakowsky, performed by Carolyn Goldschalk at the piano and Jack Jenkins, a former student, at the organ. The latter presently is a music major at Southern Illinois University.

Students taking part in the program will include: William Shafer, Elizabeth and Christina Clay, Susan Summers, Tom Wilkerson, Chris Hillmer, Jane and Diane Friederich, Mary Peters, Beth Eck, Gwen Fuchs, Leslie Houser, Sharon Heath.

Cindy Hochuli, Jeanie and Mark Schwarkopf, Michelle Morris, Enid Cox, Dana Buer, Tami Terrell, Lori Gendron, Lorrie Richardson, Gaylene Landwehrmer, Brian Beljanski, Kim Fountain and Mary and Christine Jenkins.

Others attending were Linda Koenig, Jane Laule and Lora Lombardi.

Earlier this month, a "holiday party" was given featuring holidays observed during the year with appropriate decorations for each special day. The event was hosted by Mrs. Haldeman.

Xi Epsilon holds model meeting

A model meeting was conducted by Xi Epsilon Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in the home of Mrs. Martha Dyer, 5 Patricia Lane.

Mrs. Norma Rains, president, announced a schedule of events planned for Beta Sigma Phi Week end reported reservations are being taken for a convention on Sunday in Belleville. An executive board meeting is set for April 29, she said.

Mrs. Imogene Forrest reviewed arrangements for the sorority's week-long celebration, scheduled to start Sunday.

Special guests introduced were Debbie Parmlay, Linda

Yates and Peggy Courtois. The cultural program, "Faith and Beliefs," was given by Mrs. Arlene Haldeman, who reviewed a book "Life of Confucius," and a brief reading on Hinduism, Islam, Shinto and Buddhism by Mrs. Delores Dorch.

Others present were Linda Koenig, Jane Laule and Lora Lombardi.

Howlett hiring former convicts

SPRINGFIELD — There was only one difference in the employment application in the pile of such forms in the secretary of state's personnel division.

That difference was found in one paragraph on the back of the first page. Printed in the middle of the sheet under a heading marked "Present Employment" was written "Illinois State Penitentiary, Joliet-Stateville, Ill. ... inmate."

The man is one of 20 ex-offenders now working in the secretary of state's office as part of a rehabilitation employment program.

Secy. of State Michael J. Howlett is a supporter of the program and that is why the men are working. Howlett says, "Government promotes ideas to help find jobs for ex-offenders but it has done very little to actually set a good example. It seems to me that we can expect more help from private business and industry if government could show some actual favorable statistics from our own experience."

Howlett's office started the program last summer. No jobs have been created, all hiring has been done in existing vacancies.

The job classifications range from $404 to $787 monthly and the type of work includes janitorial, stock room, auto registration, Motor Vehicle Department and data processing. All are placed on the standard six-month probationary schedule and are eligible for wage increases and advancement under regular procedures.

In an effort to make the transition as normal as possible, the criminal records are not known to fellow employees. The division chiefs are briefed on the situation. Private counseling is available all of the time. There is also encouragement for the ex-offenders to continue their education either for a high school diploma or college degree.

Emphasis is being placed on helping an ex-offender find his first job after he has been released on parole or has completed his sentence.

"This is the crucial time," Howlett says. "Few employers want to take the first chance in the rehabilitation program."

There are an additional 15 men who have qualified for employment and are now on the waiting list. However, openings have been available for the type of work for which they are qualified.

Also there are rules and regulations which must be followed. For instance the ex-offenders cannot have more than two felony convictions on their record and they must be a legal resident of Illinois.

The Corrections Department, headed by Allyn Sclaf, furnishes most of the possible applicants. Some of the possible candidates are interviewed while still in prison. This includes a talk with a representative from Howlett's office.

If accepted by the interviewers, the names are then sent to a five-member civilian advisory committee in Chicago where a final review is made before the applicant is chosen.

Howlett said, "We are encouraged by early results. One of our ex-offenders was hired away from us by another state agency at more money."

Howlett's office is also participating in the WIN (Work Incentive in Public Service Employment) program. This section of the program is funded by the U.S. Labor Department.

In this program Howlett's office received a $63,000 grant to help fund some additional jobs. These jobs are provided for persons who are on welfare.

The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission has also

Matson listed

Miami University of Oxford, O., has published a three-campus President's List of 889 students who received 4.0 (straight-A) averages for at least 12 credit hours for the winter quarter and a Deans' List of 1,401 whose grade averages for the same minimum in credit hours averages above 3.5 (half-A, half-B).

The Deans' List includes Ron Jeffrey Matson, 55 Janday Lane, Granite City.

made a financial commitment to the ex-offenders hiring program. The commission has given $30,000. A portion of the money will be used to hire counselors and also be used for research and evaluation.

Howlett said, "Our office believes that our ex-offender program shows promise of serving a worthwhile purpose in an important area."

'Gatsby' not great but 'Super Cops' are super

By GENTRY TROTTER

Those were the days, way back in the '20s, when the price of a loaf of bread was a nickel, and people danced the Charleston while sipping on their favorite "happy punch."

Those were the days when hot jazz bands did their thing while non-parly poopers wearing curly perms and tuxedos jumped into the pools, surrounded by others with a lust for romping through the mansions and gardens.

Those were the days when millionaires gained social prominence while running their speak-easies, and lots of hankie-pankie went on between somebody else's spouses.

At least all of those confusing events take place in Paramount Pictures' "The Great Gatsby," a depression within itself.

This film, which stars Robert Redford and Mia Farrow, has other major shortcomings. Like those long poetic narrations, too much stereotyping of the rich, too much staged laughter and movements.

If you are looking for fun, nostalgia and warmth, you'll never find it in this PG-rated film. This motion picture goes far beyond never-never land. That's why it receives a rating of fair.

"Foxy Brown"—Do you know any actresses who have appeared in one bomb flick after another? Well, I know of one who has reached the height of her career in that area.

Pam Grier, has a great physical appearance, but as an actress she is an unmistakable disaster.

To say that this PG-rated film is lacking good taste is an understatement. I rate it as poor. "Super Cops"—I really thought I saw two weird guys flying out of the balcony, looking like Batman and Robin. United Artists' film is not like those third-rate copper films. This PG-rated number is based on facts; however, for the sake of interest, the producers have added a dash of make-believe to spice it up.

This flick has a boat load of tragic moments in ghetto living and some haunting scenes in fighting the battle against crime.

It is a shocking, realistic experience which should be shared by all. I rate it as good. "Thieves Like Us"—It provides a long, semi-boring, nostalgic look at what bank robbers during the '30s did when they were not in action.

This R-rated film shows a bunch of characters guzzling down tubs of coke and listening to their favorite mystery and crime stories on the Zenith radio. It is classed as fair.

Corn planting behind schedule

By WARREN W. RUNDY

County Farm Adviser Little spring seedbed preparation has been done by Madison county farmers due to wet field conditions.

Many farmers, when field conditions permit, like to have some corn planted before the "normal corn planting date" of April 20 for Madison county. And they like to complete corn planting as early in May as possible.

But this spring is shaping up as another one of those years when farmers will plant corn just as soon as weather and the work load will allow.

Having some early-planted corn spreads the risk of unfavorable weather interfering with kernel set at the critical silking time this summer.

The earlier that corn is ready for harvesting in the fall, the better chance of field drying and of avoiding field losses from bad weather or stalk breakage.

There is often a slight price advantage for early harvested corn in the fall.

Early corn planting is not without risk. But the advantages usually outweigh the hazards.

Wet, cold soil can give you a poor stand. Weed problems can occur when soil is too wet for timely cultivation. And frost can injure corn plants.

The hazards of poor stand from wet, cold soil is a real risk. But it is a far less danger today than 30 years ago because of modern seed treatment.

The weed problem can be offset by the proper choice of a good pre-emergence herbicide. Early planting of soybeans is an important factor in getting top soybean yields. But the usual pattern of planting soybeans after all of your corn acreage is planted is a sound one.

Full season soybean varieties yield best when planted in early May. But the loss in yield that results when planting is delayed until late May is minor compared to the yield loss when corn is planted too late.

Some cases of grass tetany in beef and dairy cows already have occurred in southern Illinois, according to Dr. J. R. Pickard, U. of I. Extension veterinarian.

Lush growth of grass pastures can be deadly eating for beef or dairy cows in early spring.

Usually associated with cool weather conditions, grass tetany develops from a magnesium imbalance in rapidly growing grass pastures. This imbalance can cause death within a few hours after the tetany develops.

Cows most susceptible to grass tetany are those which have recently calved or are near calving. The animals suffering grass tetany symptoms may become restless and isolate themselves from the rest of the herd. They may stop grazing and have twitchy ears and glassy eyes.

Prevention is the most effective method of dealing with grass tetany problem. Says Pickard, Once the disease develops, treatment is often too late.

Keep animals out of the pasture during the grass tetany period. Once cows have been exposed to grass pasture, they may refuse a substitute feed.

Provide some ample source of magnesium. Pickard urges producers to check with their feed companies to determine the availability of different sources. One possible source is magnesium oxide mixed with grain and fed daily. Animals need at least one ounce of magnesium daily to prevent tetany. Other sources of magnesium include magnesium blocks and pellets.

The recent cold weather probably will delay the growth of grass and the grass tetany problem this spring.

It's good pasture management to delay grazing until pastures have four to eight inches of growth and the ground is firm enough to prevent the cow's hooves from damaging plant roots.
